

COUNCIL DENIES PROTEST AS BIDS ORDERED ON NEW S. A. BOULEVARD

Citizens' League Will Demand Recall Of Councilmen

WILL FILE PETITIONS ON MONDAY

Secretary Wayne Goble in Statement Asserts That Fight Has Just Started

2000 SIGN PAPERS

Officers of League Consider Plans to Bring Suit To Halt All Proceedings

DECLARING that his organization is just starting to fight, Wayne Goble, secretary of the Citizens League, said today that a petition to recall the five members of the city council may be filed by next Monday night with at least 2500 names attached. More than 2000 signatures already have been attached, Goble said.

At the same time Goble, said officials are giving serious consideration to the filing of a suit to enjoin the council from proceeding further with its program for building Santa Ana boulevard from funds to be derived from the issuance of bonds under the assessment district plan. Contrary to general report, it was ascertained today that in event the boulevard project is carried through, assessments may not be paid in one payment. The bonds will run against all property in the city for a period of 20 years.

"We consider the city trustees' action through this entire matter, culminating in last night's action, a direct challenge to the American ideal of majority rule which we hold sacred, and we would be deterred in our duty if we did not carry through the job that we have started."

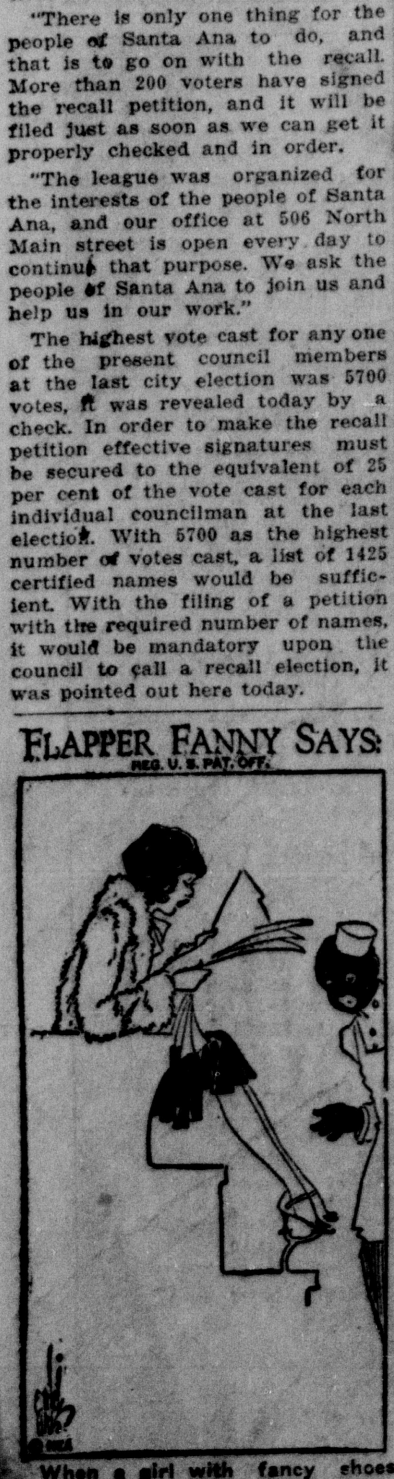

"We believe any arbitrary and dictatorial public servant should be removed from office for the general good of the community, and it is our duty to help get an expression of the will of Santa Ana voters in this matter, which can be obtained, it seems, only through a recall election."

"There is only one thing for the people of Santa Ana to do, and that is to go on with the recall. More than 200 voters have signed the recall petition, and it will be filed just as soon as we can get it properly checked and in order."

"The league was organized for the interests of the people of Santa Ana, and our office at 506 North Main street is open every day to continue that purpose. We ask the people of Santa Ana to join us and help us in our work."

The highest vote cast for any one of the present council members at the last city election was 5700 votes, it was revealed today by a check. In order to make the recall petition effective signatures must be secured to the equivalent of 25 per cent of the vote cast for each individual councilman at the last election. With 5700 as the highest number of votes cast, a list of 1425 certified names would be sufficient. With the filing of a petition with the required number of names, it would be mandatory upon the council to call a recall election, it was pointed out here today.

Killer Of Two Ranchers Gives Self Up

EL CENTRO, Nov. 26.—(UP)—Jack O'Brien, alias J. H. Savage, and some times known as "Georgia Kid," was held in jail today to face charges of murdering two men.

O'Brien surrendered to a justice of peace at Bard, Calif., yesterday after a man-hunt had been organized here in an effort to capture him.

According to authorities, O'Brien confessed to shooting John Judd, a fellow ranch hand, and John Collins, rancher who once employed O'Brien.

"They needed to be bumped off so I just did it," officers quoted O'Brien as saying.

BRITISH PRIME MINISTER AND HOOVER AGREE

MacDonald Says Freedom Of Seas Should Be Taken Up at Conclave

LONDON, Nov. 26.—(UP)—Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald's announcement in the house of commons that Great Britain was entirely agreed with the United States that President Hoover's freedom of the seas proposal should not be discussed at the forthcoming five power naval conference may serve to complicate instead of simplify the January discussions.

The prime minister's announcement was made in response to a questioner who asked the government's stand on President Hoover's suggestions made in an Armistice day address. MacDonald stated that the government did not favor discussions of war time immunity of foodships at the naval conference.

The predictions of complications were based on the recent semi-official approval by Italy of abolition of submarines which in turn was based on the understanding that foodships would be immune from attack. Such a stand would necessitate discussions of the Hoover proposals, which both Britain and the United States have agreed should not be undertaken.

With the conference scheduled to open January 21 probably at St. James palace, there is less than two months left in which to arrange general preliminary understandings between various powers, without which there arises the possibility of a deadlock in discussions similar to that of the last tripartite naval parity at Geneva.

Major questions at present unsettled by any preliminary conversations generally are understood to include the following:

1.—A gap of 30,000 tons between British and United States naval parity estimates.

2.—The question whether Japan will demand a 10-10-7 ratio instead of the 5-5-3 ratio established at Washington.

3.—Italy's demand for cruiser parity with France.

4.—The extent to which Japan, Italy and France will accede to the demands of the United States and Britain for abolition of the submarine.

Former Whittier City Clerk Held On Funds Charge

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26.—(UP)—Paul Gilmore, former city clerk and assessor at Whittier, will be tried December 3 on four counts of misappropriation of public funds which were filed against him yesterday.

He is charged by Deputy District Attorney Daniel Beecher with failing to turn in $510 in tax collections.

After making assessments on unsecured personal property he gave receipts for the funds collected and appropriated them to his own use, Beecher said.

Gilmore was ordered to jail in default of $2000 bond set when arraigned.

PROTEST OVER INVASION OF CHINA IS MADE

All Signatories of Treaty Against War By Kellogg Dispatched Today

SHANGHAI, Nov. 26.—(UP)—A protest against "invasion" of China by Russia has been sent by the Nanking government to all signatories of the Kellogg treaty against war.

The ministry sent identical telegrams to Chinese ministers abroad instructing them to convey to governments signatory to the Kellogg treaty "the facts of the Soviet invasion of Chinese territory and occupation of Manchuli and Dalai-nor."

The telegrams said that while China will abide by the stipulations of the treaty, she is compelled to resist attacks. The signatories are requested to devise means for dealing with Russia for violating the Kellogg treaty, and China expresses her willingness to submit the controversy with Russia to the League of Nations.

Authorities here denied a report from Tokio that C. T. Wang, the Chinese foreign minister, had telegraphed to Leo Karakhan, assistant Soviet commissar of foreign affairs, suggesting reopening of negotiations for settlement of the dispute over the Chinese Eastern railway.

LEADER IN MEXICO REVOLUTION HELD

NOGALES, Sonora, Mexico, Nov. 26.—(UP)—An armed guard which yesterday captured General Roberto Cruz, picturesque leader in the recent Mexican revolution, in the mountains of southern Sonora, is reported to be proceeding out of the district with the prisoner.

Cruz has been in hiding since the revolution collapsed last spring. He was wounded in the battle of Mazatlan while leading rebel cavalry.

BURR MCINTOSH IN PLEA FOR DIVORCE

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 26.—(UP)—Desertion was charged to Jean Snowden McIntosh by her husband, Burr McIntosh, screen actor, in his suit for divorce on file here today.

The film player said that Mrs. McIntosh left him in New York in April, 1927, and since had refused to return to him. They were married Christmas eve, 1914.

Two Weak Systems Predicted If Rail Line Is Permitted

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—(UP)—Construction of a Great Northern-Western Pacific connection from Klamath Falls, Ore., to Keddie, Calif., would result in two weak systems between California and the Pacific Northwest instead of one prosperous one, it was intimated today at an Interstate Commerce commission hearing by Clarence E. Day, Southern Pacific engineer.

Day testified that the Great Northern and Western Pacific estimate on probable operating costs was too low and that the line could not be operated profitably.

Diversion of traffic from the Southern Pacific as a result of the proposed line would cut deeply into Southern Pacific profit, Day said.

Committee Of 100 Organized To Aid County

Sixty-five Prominent Citizens Meet and Plan for Future Growth

RECREATION of harmony in Orange county, disrupted by the flood control program, junior college situation and improvements of a big industrial development in the county, are purposes that actuated the organization at Fullerton, last night, of 100 prominent citizens into a committee to be known as the "committee of One Hundred."

Men representative of the financial, business, agricultural and industrial interests of the county were present virtually every district in the county being represented. The assembly numbered 49.

The sentiment of the meeting was that harmony and unity must be preserved and that Orange county should be promoted as the ideal location for big factories seeking facilities and surroundings of the very highest character for successful operation.

The meeting, which was arranged at the instance of J. C. Bliss, chairman of the industrial committee of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, was held at the McFarland cafe, with C. C. Chapman presiding.

Bankers, ranchers, progressive business men, conscientious civic leaders and conservative taxpayers heard the story of Orange county's disruption on questions of water, harbor and junior college, and then a large number of them enrolled in the idealistic movement to end disharmony and to knit the county together for unified industrial development.

Creation of a fund of $10,000 to finance the program of the committee is proposed, with each member contributing $100—an investment of $100 each in Orange county's future, as it was expressed at the meeting. Thirty-two men who signed as members of the committee pledged themselves to subscribe $500 to the fund. The pledges, it was pointed out, would not be called for until 100 members had been pledged. The county board of supervisors has pledged $1000 to the fund, according to announcement by Bliss.

Upon organization of the committee, Chapman was elected permanent chairman.

MME. CASELOTTI BECAME STAR IN GRAND OPERA WHILE SHE CARED FOR HER TWO BABIES

BY RUTH ANDREWS

I had the intimate privilege of a very happy hour with celebrity this morning when I visited Mme. Maria Caselotti, internationally noted opera star, in her suite at St. Ann's Inn. Here the famous prima donna had spent the past two days resting, prior to her appearance here as "Violetta" in Verdi's operatic masterpiece "La Traviata," to be offered tonight in Fox Spurgeon Theater for the enjoyment of Orange county's musical elite at Santa Ana's premiere showing of professional grand opera.

No one so fortunate as to come in personal contact with Mme. Caselotti could fail to be at once impressed by the spell of her unusually magnetic, charming personality. Not only is she young and physically very lovely, with long, dark hair and blue eyes, slender, with exquisite carriage, but her gracious manner is irresistible. Thoroughly feminine, and gayly vivacious in a manner more French than Italian, Mme. Caselotti is ideally suited to the famous romantic role of Violetta, in which she will be heard here tonight.

"Although I have spent most of my life here in America, where I have received all my vocal training, I was born in Naples, Caruso's native city," Mme. Caselotti informed me. "Even today I have relatives living in Trivoli, a suburb overlooking Rome. But I was married here in the United States when only 16. After that I spent some years in the Long Island district, New York, also in various eastern cities. All of my vocal training I received after my marriage to Mr. Caselotti, who has been my sole teacher."

"It would amuse you to know that during all my years of study, I cared for my own home and took care of my two small daughters, while fitting myself for a stage career. Often in addition to all my domestic duties, I practiced from four to six hours a day. I didn't have much time left for outside pleasures," the star continued, a little wistfully. "Sometimes I wasn't able to leave the house for days."

CHARGES MADE TO GRAND JURY AGAINST BROWN

Coroner Accused By Garden Grove Doctor With Malfeasance

THE GRAND JURY today is making an investigation of charges placed before it yesterday by Dr. J. G. Bernike, who lives near Garden Grove, according to a statement made today by the complaining witness, who declared that he had filed a complaint charging Charles Brown with embezzlement of money belonging to Bernike, malfeasance, misfeasance and nonfeasance in office as public administrator.

The charges, it is stated by Bernike, grew out of the case of the settlement of the estate of his wife, M. L. Bernike, whose death occurred February 3, 1926, in which he claims that certain moneys which belonged to him were ruled as belonging to the estate. Bernike also stated that his complaint included charges of perjury against A. P. Nelson, attorney, in connection with certain phases of the case.

Attorney O. T. Callor, of Anaheim, was scheduled to appear before the grand jury today, and Dr. Bernike stated that he understood it was in connection with his case.

It is reported that Public Administrator Brown, whose record has been maintained unsullied in the past and whose conduct in office has never been questioned prior to this action, was before the investigating body yesterday afternoon.

Coroner Brown, in a statement to The Register this morning said that he would rather not discuss the case at this time. He refused to admit that he was before the grand jury in connection with the case yesterday, preferring to state that he would remain "mum" at this time.

MANNEQUINS AT 60

LONDON, Nov. 26.—At the age when most women retire from active life, three ambitious grandmothers of 60 are training at a fashionable West End school to be mannequins. They are competing with college girls and boys. In a recent big dress parade, the three aged ladies were the most admired participants.

W. F. LUTZ, PIONEER OF SANTA ANA, DIES

The unexpected death of W. F. Lutz this morning removed from this community a man who has been in active business life in Santa Ana for approximately 30 years.

Mr. Lutz has many years was head of the W. F. Lutz company, engaged in the early life of Santa Ana in the retailing of farming equipment and harness, the business being continued today under the original name but by other owners.

Mr. Lutz had been ill for a few days but was not considered in a serious condition until a short time before he expired this morning.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Lutz; a son, Arthur Lutz, of Long Beach, and two daughters, Mrs. H. T. Richards, Santa Ana, and Mrs. Jerry Asher, of El Centro. Services will be held from the Winigler Funeral home at 10 a. m., Friday.

Utility Heads Meeting Today In Washington

Two Billion Dollar Development Program Will Be Outlined

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—(UP)—Every major sector of the nation's industrial forces stood mobilized today for the big winter economic drive under the leadership of President Hoover.

Utilities leaders were meeting in New York today to discuss their potential $2,000,000,000 development program preparatory to a later conference here with the president.

The United States Chamber of commerce is arranging for a general emergency business conference here December 5 when business will shoulder the task of carrying forward the work begun by President Hoover.

Never before in peace time has a president mustered such an all-extensive industrial drive. Billions of dollars in new construction have been promised by the railroads, the construction industry, general business and federal, state and local governments.

Full buying power has been preserved through the action of heads of great industries in promising President Hoover there would be no wage cuts. Devastating labor troubles have been averted, it is believed, by the pledge of organized labor to abstain from trying to force new wage increases.

Farmers have promised to co-operate. With lower interest rates on farm loans predicted by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde following the farm conference at the White House yesterday, the millions of farmers are expected to go on with their normal purchases which amount to about $400,000,000 annually in farm implements alone.

Governors of most states have responded to the president's request that they initiate as much public construction as possible. More than $2,000,000,000 in road work is in sight not including vast public building projects.

The federal government has contributed enormous aid to the situation by promising a $100,000,000 tax cut.

One of the great achievements of the series of conferences in the view here is the pledge of industries to keep wages up. Never before has business adopted the long view doctrine that if sales are to keep up the average citizen must have money with which to buy. Henry Ford went beyond this and announced a wage increase declaring the country's production has not begun to catch up with the demand—that only limited buying power held back industry.

Wales Plans Africa Trip First Of Year

LONDON, Nov. 26.—(UP)—The Prince of Wales will voyage to South Africa early next year without the company of any other members of the royal family.

There had been reports that Prince George would accompany Wales on the trip, but these were officially denied. Prince George is scheduled to resume his duties in the foreign office shortly after the first of the year.

It is understood the Prince of Wales will sail for Cape-town January 3. He is anxious to resume the African trip from which he was hastily recalled when King George became ill last year.

LEAGUE IS INVITED TO RECALL DADS

City Chambers Are Filled To Overflowing; Both Sides Are Given Floor

OPEN BIDS ON DEC. 16

Compromise Plan Offered By Citizens League Rejected By Councilmen

BY DENYING a protest petition against the city council program for opening Santa Ana boulevard signed by 1983 taxpayers and adopting resolutions ordering the work, the city council last night invited the Citizens League to proceed with its movement to recall the members of the body. Bids for the work will be opened on December 16.

The protest was denied following the presentation of arguments by men speaking on both sides of the proposition, and the vote of denial was unanimous.

Not in many years past has the council chambers been packed as it was last night, when standing room even was at a premium. Many were forced to stand just outside the council room door in order to hear the discussions.

A large group of business men were present and at various times evidenced their support of the council by loud applause. The opposition was well represented and also was demonstrative when points were made by speakers against the plan.

Retraction was made of charges that the council had no moral right to vote on property without approval by the voters a bond issue of the site proposed in the highway opening program.

And retraction also was made of conditions that prompted the council to initiate the steps for the new project.

City Attorney Charles D. Swaner and Mayor E. L. Purinton pointed out very clearly that the compromise offer of the Citizens' league could not be accepted even if the council was in favor of such a step. It was made clear that the city cannot spend money outside its limits, and that it would have been impossible to have voted bonds for the highway in advance of annexation of the territory taken into the city to make possible the improvement. It was equally impossible, the mayor pointed out, to get residents of the territory to approve annexation without reasonable assurance that the improvement project would be executed.

Sweet Speaks

Lucien Sweet, who circulated protest and recall petitions, was the first man to speak following an invitation by the mayor to those present to speak upon the issue.

Sweet reminded his auditors that he was a candidate for the council some 15 years ago and read a section from his platform in which he promised, if elected, to conduct the business affairs of the city in a business like manner and to give the people opportunity to decide for themselves questions of extreme importance, particularly those involving added taxes.

Asserting that he never before had heard of a council exercising the authority the local body is doing in imposing a tax on all real estate in the city for the highway improvement, Sweet propounded the question as to

TRAIN HELD UP NEAR CHEYENNE DURING NIGHT

Frontier Days Recalled As Cowboys and Plainsmen Organize Poses

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 26.—(UP)—The early frontier days came into their own once again today as poses traversed the rugged hills of this section on the trail of a youthful bandit who derailed the westbound Portland Limited, train No. 17, on the Union Pacific railroad four miles east of here last night and robbed panic stricken passengers of approximately $800.

Scores of citizens, including cowboys, plainsmen and businessmen, volunteered to aid police, deputy sheriffs and state law enforcement officials in the search. They set out in pursuit immediately after the wreck and were still searching the hills and mountains for miles around today.

The search was reminiscent of the early days of the west when vigilantes pursued and captured the notorious William L. (Bad Bill) Carlisle who terrorized passengers on the Union Pacific. Carlisle used a toy pistol in one of his holdups.

With the exception of two women, Mrs. Dora Witt, Pittsburgh, Pa., and Mrs. Margaret, Chicago, the 60 passengers miraculously escaped injury when five passenger and two baggage coaches came to a halt against an embankment after leaving the tracks.

Union Pacific officials said the derailment was caused by spikes being withdrawn from a rail, and that it was only through the presence of mind of two brakemen that a catastrophe was averted.

The bandit climbed on the platform of the observation car, and went the entire length of the train robbing passengers.

"I've got a wife and two kids at home and the railroad won't give me work," he apologized to his victims, passengers said. He was dressed in shabby working clothes and was about 22 years old.

The youth worked with precision. He ran down the aisle in each car, signalling out the prosperous looking passengers, lining them up, and ordering them to be "quick about it."

He robbed about 10 passengers, but made no attempt to take jewelry from his victims. He leaped from the front coach, ran back, robbed several more passengers, and disappeared as mysteriously as he made his entrance, much in the same way Bill Carlisle would have done it a decade ago.

FIRES IN BAY CITY AREA UNDER CONTROL

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—(UP)—With all blazes in bay area reported under control, firefighting units today were being reduced or completely released.

San Mateo county authorities turned their attention to a search for an incendiary blamed for recent peninsula fires.

Oakland authorities held in the detention home a youth admittedly guilty of starting one of the fires near that city.

Investigate Death Of Woman Who Jumped From Car

CORONER FINDS NO REASON FOR WOMAN'S ACT

Coroner Charles D. Brown, today was investigating the death, in the Fullerton General hospital, Sunday, of Mrs. Leona Lee Benoit, 40, of Fullerton, who died of a fractured skull said to have been suffered when she jumped out of an automobile being driven by her husband.

Mrs. Benoit was returning to Fullerton from Compton, last Wednesday night, when a fog was encountered, according to Coroner Brown. She suddenly opened the door of the machine and jumped out for no apparent reason, he reported.

The husband stopped the machine and, with the aid of a truck driver, lifted her into the machine. She was given first aid treatment in Buena Park, Brown said, and then removed to the Fullerton hospital, where she died Sunday.

Funeral services have been set for tomorrow afternoon in the Mc-

"I made my operatic debut in Brooklyn Academy nine years ago in the role of Gilda in 'Rigoletto,'" Mme. Caselotti said. "After that I toured Canada several months with Richard Bonelli, one of the most celebrated of opera stars. He has been appearing this past week at the New York Metropolitan. I then returned to Brooklyn to appear with Vincent Ballester, the famous Spanish tenor."

"I have certainly had no monotony in my life," Mme. Caselotti confided. "My stage experience has been filled with constant change and variety. I have travelled all over the world, appearing in many different countries. Oh, I have had so many experiences, and everywhere I have made so many friends."

Countless press clippings from both foreign and American publications offer ample evidence of sensational triumphs achieved by this beautiful young prima donna during the eight vivid years of her professional activity, despite which she has remained astonishingly unspoiled and the soul of friendliness.

"I think I was the happiest of all when I made my Italian debut at the Costanzi Theater in Rome three years ago," Mme. Caselotti said. "You know, that is now the Royal Opera House, one of Rome's leading theaters. I had the unique honor to appear there in my favorite role of Violetta in 'Traviata,' the same role Coroner Brown said today that he had not determined whether he would hold an inquest.

Ana boulevard will cost. He emphasized the point that the tax would be levied against real estate only and cited the First National bank building, the Grand Central Market building and the Otis building as some of the improvements that would escape taxation.

"If time would have permitted we could have had 4000 signatures to the protest," Diehl said, and he closed his talk with the declaration that a recall election would "tear the town to pieces."

Downing Is Booster

"Our 'hired men' (councilmen) work for the munificent sum of $25 a month," said Clyde Downing. "They give their time to the consideration of city business and act conscientiously on propositions affecting the entire community. As a taxpayer and home maker, I congratulate the council on its foresight and on its courage to put over such a program as is proposed. Those of the citizens with a forward look should come forward and support the body in its progressive work."

D. B. Vaul, a newcomer here from Portland, said he had come here to make his home and invest in property, and he was surprised to find such a situation as exists in the attempt of the council to force a bond issue on the city without approval by the voters. He asserted that as a circulator of a petition he had been grossly insulted by some citizens—a thing he thought very discourteous and especially to a newcomer.

"I also am a new comer to Santa Ana and I have invested more than $100,000 in property here," said J. W. Estes sr. "I favor any progressive movement, even though it may cost me added tax money. I am benefited by any advance program, as is every other property owner in the city, and if I do not get the benefit I should it is my fault and not the fault of the city."

Estes pointed out that the council is acting under a state law empowering it to create an assessment district for improvement purposes, and concluded with the declaration that "I doubt if 83 of the 1923 persons signing the protest" could correctly answer the questions involved in the controversy over the building of the new artery into Santa Ana.

C. V. Robinson, protest circulator, said that he had found among those signing his petition sentiment against the highway because of the need of parks, a civic auditorium, streets straightened within the city limits and extension of thoroughfares within the city.

Legal Features
Speaking at request of the mayor, City Attorney C. D. Swanner explained legal features that would prevent the city council doing some things some citizens believe it should do. He commented on facts with reference to attempts to annex territory to the north in order to get jurisdiction over property that could be utilized in the opening of North Broadway, and pointed to failure in two attempts at annexation proceedings.

He asserted that at the time annexation of certain territory that later voted to go into Orange there were only 80 voters in the district outlined for the Santa Ana annexation and when the election was held 140 votes were registered. He cited suits in the court here to determine the status of Santa Ana and Orange after successful proceedings for annexation to Orange and to Santa Ana.

"Opening of Santa Ana boulevard revealed itself as the only possible way the council had for getting a satisfactory outlet to the north," Swanner said, after recounting some of the numerous occasions in which the city had been blocked in attempts to straighten Flower street and to open Broadway.

Concerning the statements that residents in the shoe string strip annexed for the purpose of the boulevard getting all benefits from such an improvement at the expense of property owners of the city, Swanner cited the instance of the donation by property owners of 10 feet on each side for the widening of Flower street at a considerable sacrifice in the form of giving up rows of valuable walnut and orange trees. The owners also will pay assessment charges the same as other holders in the city. Swanner also pointed ment chairman, T. B. Talbert, Huntington Beach, vice chairman, Harry May, Fullerton, temporary secretary, and Senator N. T. Edwards, Orange, treasurer.

Chapman is to appoint an executive committee, which is to include the officers, and a number of directors at large throughout the county. Every section of the county will be represented on the board of directors.

In opening the session, Chapman declared that it is the people themselves and not water, soil, climate or resources that make a community, state or nation.

Stating that Orange county is on the verge of what promises to be an important industrial development, the committee chairman said that harmony must be sustained to assure a happy and prosperous future.

W. J. Carmichael, of Fullerton, declared that the committee is proposed as a balance wheel to harmonize disputes in order that a unified appeal may be made for the development of the county industrially.

C. L. McComber, Buena Park, advised that the opening of Sycamore street was under the same act under which proceedings are being conducted for opening Santa Ana boulevard. The same law is being used in the widening of East First street, and has been used in other improvement programs here.

Answers Question
In response to a question by Diehl, Swanner said that the only promise the council had made to property owners in the shoe string strip as an inducement to come into the city was a promise that proceedings would be instituted such as have been initiated.

"I am a property owner and pay taxes, and I am in favor of the highway opening," said Jules Markel. "We should give the council all support. The opposition has been initiated by a group owning property on North Main street north of the point where the boulevard would intersect Main street. I don't want the council would be worth a row of beans if it should back down at this time."

B. E. Morthland, who lives near the river bridge on Chapman street, recited some of the activities of Orange in promoting annexation of property in that district. "There has been a concerted effort to block Santa Ana in advancing its limits to the north and in opening streets north to Chapman avenue," Morthland said.

"I own land on Main street north of the bridge and I am with the council in its progressive program," commented W. N. Vandermast.

Dr. Roy Horton declared that the recall movement would fail and expressed the belief that a recall would be more costly to the city than the expense of building the highway.

E. C. Wilson, 630 Orange avenue, said he had signed the protest and recall because of misinformation on the situation here. He said he had withdrawn his name.

Following a statement by Mayor Purinton that it was estimated there are 10,000 property owners in the city, and that the signers to the protest represented less than 20 per cent of them, Councilman Goode moved that the protest be denied.

The clerk was authorized to advertise for bids for the boulevard improvements, with Dec. 16 set as the date for the opening of bids.

When adjournment was taken it was to meet Wednesday afternoon at 4 p. m.

Seventy-five business men who attended the meeting to support the city council in its improvement project had dinner at the Santa Ana cafe and went from the cafe to the council chambers.

vanced the thought that the committee could arrange to have a representative contact with eastern capitalists and industrialists and outline to them the advantages this county offers factories. He also suggested that steps be taken to acquire available industrial property at current low prices, pointing out that the price on such property later may become prohibitive for industrial use.

George Raymer, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, outlined some of the possible accomplishments by a contact man in directing attention of industrialists to Orange county.

Perhaps the climax of the meeting was reached when S. H. Woodruff, of Dana Point, outlined organization in Los Angeles of a committee of 200 that was responsible for initiating the program that has resulted in hundreds of factories coming to that city.

"Orange county, with its cheap land, low cost of living, cheap power and ideal living conditions, is ideally suited for the development of a great textile industry, as well as other types of industry," Woodruff said.

He asserted the Orient offers the world's best market for textile products and pointed out that California is growing high grade cotton. Land values are now on the upward trend, after a period of comparative quiet, Woodruff said, in commenting on the fact that opportunities for the future are extremely promising.

Other county leaders, who voiced endorsement of the "Committee of One Hundred" movement, included A. E. Bradford, pioneer Placentia banker and rancher; C. Houshey, of Los Angeles, secretary of the United States Industrial Alcohol company; Edward Starke of Los Angeles, president of the Anaheim Sugar company; Charles Cotant, manager of the Bank of Italy, Santa Ana branch; Lew Wallace of the Security Trust and Savings bank of Newport Beach; A. W. Cleaver, Fullerton laundryman and capitalist; C. Burrud, of the Woodruff Development company, Dana Point; W. D. Jerome, president of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce and county auditor; Hal Warner, secretary to Ole Hanson, San Clemente; Senator Nels Edwards, of Orange; C. Williamson, of the Newport Beach city council; Assemblyman Ted Craig of Brea; H. N. White, president of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce; S. C. Hartnaff, Anaheim rancher; Frank Was, manager of the Santa Ana branch of the Security-First National bank of Los Angeles; J. P. Greeley, of Balboa; and B. A. Lake of Garden Grove.

County sentiment is definitely moving towards cooperation, after a period of petty bickering, was the opinion expressed by Lake in his talk. He pointed out that a round table discussion of perplexing problems, participated in by those of divergent interests, is the best sort of a solution.

Last night's meeting was sponsored by Gaston Bastanchury and Charles C. Chapman, Fullerton; Frank J. Was, Santa Ana; P. E. Fluor, Anaheim contractor; Senator Nels Edwards, Orange; Ole Hanson, San Clemente developer, and S. H. Woodruff, Dana Point developer.

Those who accepted invitations, all but seven of whom were present, were as follows: H. B. W. Barnes, P. E. Fluor, S. C. Hartnaff, J. E. Schumacher, P. A. Stanton, H. N. White and Lotus H. Loudon, all of Anaheim; Eugene Fencel, Francis E. Perry, J. P. Greeley, Lew Wallace and Harry Williamson, all of Balboa; Harry E. Becker, Ted Craig, W. A. Culp and W. D. Schaffer, all of Brea; L. D. Jaynes, and J. F. Simpson, of Buena Park; Dr. Clarence G. Huston of Costa Mesa; C. L. Garnett, Hugh LaRue and Guy G. Priddy, of Cypress; C. C. Chapman, A. W. Cleaver, W. F. Coulter, C. W. Finch, R. S. Gregory, F. C. Krause, Kaute B. Norwing, W. H. Rollo, O. N. Thompson, A. R. Volk and Dr. W. H. Wickett, of Fullerton.

P. W. Guyton, Charles S. Hoyt, H. A. Lake, Dr. C. C. Violett and H. E. Yochey, all of Garden Grove; Nelson Launer, A. M. Otis, and C. T. Stephens, of La Habra; B. L. Johns of Los Alamitos; C. Hoogbooy,

Edward Starke and S. H. Woodruff, of Los Angeles; Fred Alden, N. T. Edwards and S. B. Edwards, of Orange;

M. S. Bradford and Ralph J. MeFadden of Placentia; E. Bartlett, Hal Warner and Thomas F. Murphy of San Clemente; Charles Cotant, William H. DeWitt, John Knox, Jim Raitt, J. A. Smart, George A. Raymer and W. D. Jerome, all of Santa Ana; Elmer J. Hughes and W. D. Miller of Seal Beach; Ross A. Shafer and S. W. Stanley of Tustin; and F. D. Basse and James M. Monroe of Westminster.

MARRIAGE WITHOUT LICENSE LEGAL IN SOME INSTANCES, COUNTY CLERK POINTS OUT

Los Angeles county authorities who recently took three persons into custody for alleged violation of the state marriage laws, and who were forced to release them later when an unrecalled section of the civil code was pointed out to them, would have been spared the embarrassment of the situation had they had the services of J. M. Backs, Orange county clerk. In commenting on the matter Backs recalled that a similar case had occurred in Ontario some two years ago and that he had advised an inquiring couple here some time ago of the provisions of the state law which make marriage without a license legal.

In the Los Angeles county case, the authorities attempted to arrest A. M. Nieto, a Mexican, on a fake marriage charge, after he had made arrangements for a couple to be married without a license. Nieto, however, called their attention to a section of the law which made the marriage perfectly legal and was released. The couple, who had made the complaint leading to the attempt to arrest Nieto, Ricardo Macias and Ascencion Santana, were also released from arrest on vagrancy charges, on which the authorities had held them.

Nieto had charged the couple a fee of $10 for arranging the wedding, which they afterward thought was a fake, but which was proved to be perfectly legal under the circumstances. The provisions of the state law in the matter as pointed out by County Clerk Backs are as follows:

"When unmarried persons, not minors, have been living together as man and wife, they may without a license be married by any clergyman. A certificate of such marriage must, by the clergyman, be made and delivered to the parties, and recorded upon the records of the church of which the clergyman is a representative. No other record need be made."

Backs stated that an elderly couple from some neighboring county had appeared in his office some time ago and who wished to be married, but did not want their children to know the facts, and that he had referred them to this section of the state civil code.

Court Notes

A complaint for divorce from G. B. Post has been filed in superior court here by Adele R. Post, in which the plaintiff charges that for more than a year the defendant has lived apart from her and refuses to dwell in the same house with her, contrary to her expressed wishes and without her consent. The couple married in Toronto, Canada, on Nov. 3, 1916, and separated Oct. 1, 1926, she said.

Alleging cruel and inhuman treatment, James O. Reed has sued Della C. Reed for divorce and asks the custody of the three minor children be awarded to him. The complaint charges the defendant with criticizing and quarreling with the friends of the plaintiff, thus causing them to quit calling at their home; nagging the plaintiff and complaining about his business and social conduct; threatening to kill the plaintiff; threatening to kill the plaintiff's children; attending spiritualistic meetings and consulting fortune tellers and mediums and spending large sums of money for this purpose; and creating a disturbance and scene in a restaurant in Huntington Beach, at which time she is alleged to have struck the plaintiff in the face. The separation occurred on Sept. 1, 1929, after the couple had been married nearly 19 years, the complaint said.

Divorce proceedings have been instituted in superior court by Ernest U. Fowler, who asks a decree from Isabelle Fowler. He charges his wife with cruel treatment, basing the case on the allegations that she was unreasonably jealous, assumed a sarcastic attitude toward him and scolded and nagged until his home life was miserable. The couple married over 24 years ago in St. Johns, New Brunswick, Canada.

Judgment for a total of $953.81 was given the Applying Collection company in superior court in its suit against A. J. Thedleck, who failed to appear to contest the action. The action was based on a note for $688.80, said to have been given to the Los Angeles First National Trust and Savings bank by Thedleck on July 27, 1925.

Burton B. Jones, who appeared before Judge H. G. Ames, yesterday, on a petition from the district attorney's office for revocation of probation, was ordered lodged in the county jail for a period of 90 days on a modified order of his prior probation. The probation was granted previously by Judge James L. Allen on Jones's application after he pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated. At that time he served a sentence of six months in the county jail as a condition of three years' probation. Jones was taken into custody for intoxication on October 22, and the petition for revocation of probation was the outgrowth.

KLEINSCHMIDT AND PARTY ARE TAKEN ON TOUR OF CASTLE BY KINDLY SANTA CLAUS HIMSELF

By CAPT. F. E. KLEINSCHMIDT
Special Correspondent to The Register and Head of Expedition to Home of Santa Claus
By Wireless

After shaking hands with Santa we were escorted up the castle steps past a lane of gnomes who stood at attention like soldiers. The great portal of bronze and gold inlaid doors swung open by invisible hands and we looked down a corridor miles in length with a ceiling as high as the greatest cathedral and supported by wonderfully carved columns.

The walls were glistening like kind. You are about to enter the largest gift shop in all the world."

Santa clapped his hands and eight gnomes bounced forward and bowed before the Gift King. "My good gnomes open the door to the gift room."

The gnomes, always obedient, swung to their task.

One unlocked the door with a large golden key and another slipped back a bolt and slowly the doors began to swing inward.

New World Visible

Before the eyes of all of us a new world was visible.

The walls, all solid ice coated with gold seemed to be miles in length. The ceiling reached so high that our necks were strained trying to see all that hung from the ice rafters.

The walls were laden with all manner of gifts and the floor was stacked with every form of toy that boy or girl could possibly name or want. This room, the only one like it in all the world, was filled from floor to rafters with millions of gifts. Not surprising that the number totaled millions when one stops to consider there are 50 million children who believe in Santa Claus.

Santa kept talking with us and smiling when anyone asked him a question. He seemed to enjoy being interrupted in his labors even though Christmas was only a few weeks away.

Many gifts we noted were marked for Santa Ana delivery, but we did not stop to read the names. "There is no need of us walking all through the gift room," Santa said. He called to two gnomes, "Have them harness a couple of teams of reindeer and we'll ride through the room."

This pleased Mrs. K. and the Eskimos were standing with mouths open and eyes glistening for never did they dream that so many gifts could be piled in one room in the land of Santa Claus.

The little brown men, even though Santa always has lived near them, never realized the greatness of his factory and his kindness of heart. Santa told me to send you this message.

Boys and Girls Good

"Santa Ana boys and girls have been unusually good this year and I have studied their cases carefully and some of my best presents will be left in your city."

"How long does it take you to make delivery of all these fine gifts?" Mrs. K. asked.

"Well, you see it's this way," Santa said. "I have always been able to make a tour of the world on Christmas eve. Of course there have been nights when I had to whip up the reindeer and once I almost missed some sections of the world when old Layluk attacked me. My good reindeer, however, can travel through the clouds as well as on the snow covered earth and when I find the wind too severe on earth, I just crack my whip and away we soar into the clouds."

"Now, there are times when I have trouble filling stockings. I must work rapidly and if the doors are locked or the chimneys are stuffed with soot, I have a hard time getting into the homes. Still, most parents see that I am given a welcome. I even have made deliveries at homes where boys have been rather bad, having received their good marks only a few hours before I started from North Pole. You must know, especially since you live in Santa Ana that most children are good. That helps to make a good choice of gifts."

FULLER PARK

FULLER PARK, Nov. 26.—The Community club met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. With years of steady growth behind them, Camels continue to grow. They are smoked today by more millions than ever before.

The increasing popularity of smoking in the United States exactly parallels the growth of Camel Cigarettes. Camel has given smokers a cigarette of genuine quality . . . a marvelous blend of choicest tobaccos . . . mild, fragrant, satisfying. This is the quality that smokers depend upon, and they can rest assured it will never be sacrificed. Taste in smoking, as the real pleasure of smoking is experienced, leads directly to Camel quality.

SHAKESPEARE HOUR ON NATIONAL CHAIN

Katharina and Petruchio, heroine and hero of Shakespeare's immortal comedy, "The Taming of the Shrew," will be the principals in a microphone version of scenes from the play to be broadcast through NBC system stations from 8:30 to 9 p. m. today, during the second presentation of a new program known as "In Shakespeare's Time."

The roles of the shrew and her lover will be played by Violet Wilson and Irving Pichel, both well known for numerous portrayals on the legitimate stage. George Rand will head the supporting cast.

Charles Hart conducts the orchestra which supplies an appropriate musical atmosphere for the weekly Shakespearean productions.

"In Shakespeare's Time" will be released through NBC system stations KGO, Oakland; KHQ, Spokane; KOMO, Seattle; KGW, Portland, and KFI, Los Angeles.

Eveready Offers Gilbert, Sullivan Numbers Tonight

Gilbert and Sullivan, the librettist and the composer who together became famous for their series of comic operas, will come to life in an Eveready hour production dealing with their colorful career to be broadcast through the NBC coast-to-coast system between 6 and 7 p. m., Pacific standard time, today.

Highlights in the partnership of the two men, who became acquainted in 1869, when Gilbert was 33 and Sullivan still in his twenties, will be presented in the Eveready hour version of their lives. Musical selections, including the best-known melodies from their works, will be played by an orchestra under Nathaniel Shilkret's direction as an important part of the program.

Pacific coast stations releasing this NBC system broadcast are KGO, Oakland; KHQ, Spokane; KOMO, Seattle; KGW, Portland, and KFI, Los Angeles.

SCREEN STARS ON OLD GOLD PROGRAM

The Old Gold-Paul Whitman hour over the nation-wide network of the Columbia Broadcasting system, from 6 to 7 o'clock, coast time, tonight, will originate from station KHJ, Los Angeles.

The sponsors of the Old Gold hour take pleasure in announcing that the famous screen stars, William Haines and Hedda Hopper, will be in the Old Gold studios and will contribute to the program.

Vocal interpolations by the popular Whitman artists, Mildred Bailey, Bing Crosby, the Old Gold Trio and the Paul Whiteman Rhythm Boys, will be heard throughout the hour.

The complete program follows:

1. Turn on the Heat, from "Sunshine Up," Steppin' Along.
2. Chant of the Jungle; Right Kind of Man; Modernistic.
3. Carmela—waltz.
4. Same Old Moon; Honeysuckle Rose; Navy Blues.
5. Song of the Blues; Beside An Open Fireplace.
6. Miss Wonderful, from "Paris;" Love Made a Gypsy Out of Me; I May Be Wrong.
7. When Counting the Stars Alone; That Wonderful Something.
8. Little By Little; Doin' the Boom Boom; I Can Do Wonders For You.

With the approach of another Yuletide season and its resultant stimulation of Business, radio Dealers again are confronted with that periodical Bugaboo, Television. It is a difficult task, Dealers find, to correct the impression that television is just around the corner and that present radio receivers soon will become obsolete.

On that account—Nothing could be further from the truth, declares L. M. Turner, of The Turner Radio Company, in an attempt to spike the existing belief—Present radio Broadcast receivers will not become obsolete with the introduction of television, according to Turner, regardless of whether television becomes a reality tomorrow or 10 years from tomorrow.

Voice, he points out, will continue to be transmitted over the present channels, unless changed for some reason by the Federal radio commission, while television will not be permitted within those channels.

In other words, television, when it does make its appearance, will require separate equipment for its reception.

Bring to Thanksgiving Day a brighter cheer by serving "Canada Dry"

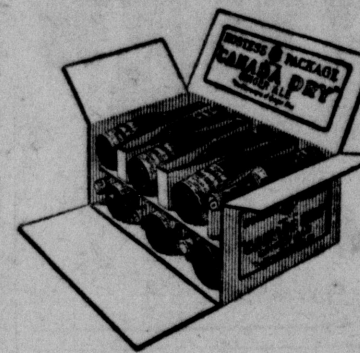

WITH all its round of happiness... greeting old friends with warm clasp of hand... seeing all the family again gathered together... it just wouldn't be Thanksgiving without "Canada Dry."

Bright cheer bubbles in its crystal depths. "Dryness," like that of some rare old wine, gives it zest, mellowness which matches the feeling of the day. Mildness which suggests Indian summer.

Absolutely pure ingredients give it basic excellence. Blending and balancing in exact proportions and careful carbonation combine to produce its distinction and quality.

Serve "Canada Dry" on Thanksgiving. Order it today.

EAT FRESH FRUIT FOR HEALTH

Delicious Fruit Punch Almost Universally Enjoyable

It is hard to find a child or an adult who does not enjoy delicious fruit punch. And it would be hard to think of a food more deserving of a place in the healthful diet. A famous food scientist urges us to eat raw fruit every day.

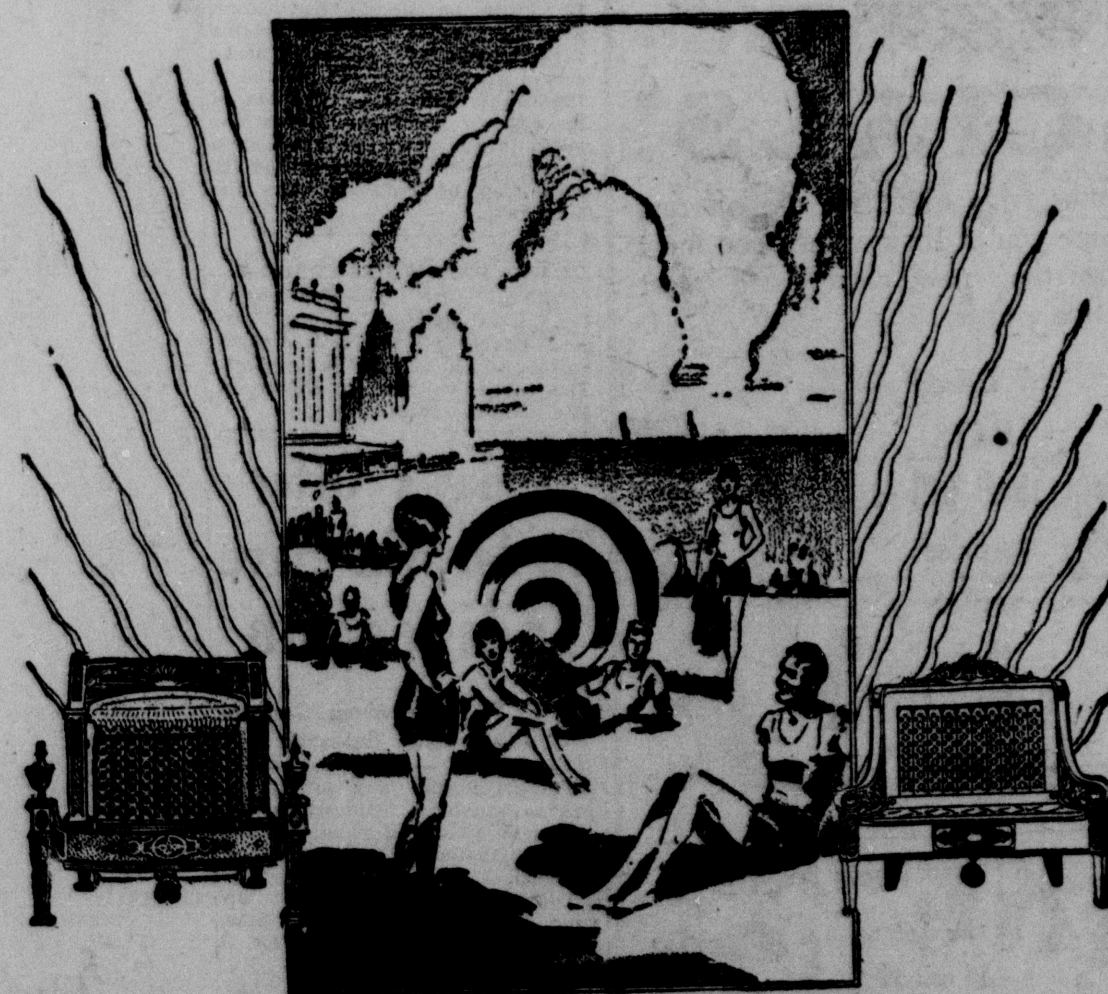

We went to the California Fruit Growers, knowing that they are authorities on fruits. We asked them for their most popular recipe for fruit punch. The following is what they gave us:

Juice from 2 oranges, 2 cups of water, juice from 2 lemons or 1 grapefruit, sugar to taste. For variation, add 1 cup of other fruit juice, such as grape juice, loganberry juice, pineapple juice, cider, or the juice from any canned fruit. How easy such a punch is to make and how full of health and enjoyment!

Every married woman recognizes her responsibility for providing a well-balanced diet that is at the same time tasteful and appetizing. The secret of sugar as a seasoning opens the way to delicious cookery. Use a dash of sugar in cooking each vegetable and fruit. In milk drinks and desserts. In meats and meat sauces. Chocolate and coconut cookies and candies are good for dessert. A bit of sweet makes the meal complete. The Sugar Institute.

LIONS

True Stories of the Ferocity of the African Lion
By Martin Johnson

CHAPTER 3

I want to warn the reader right here that it is not safe to feed wild lions in Africa. You can get away with it, of course. But there are chances for disaster that are not worth taking unless you have a trained hand with you who knows the technique of entertaining African lions.

Osa had the idea first. I suppose it was her feminine disposition towards hospitality.

"Let's make the lions feel that we are friends," she suggested after we were all settled in camp.

"We haven't time," I reported. "Besides a lion's suspicion of man is a good deal more than skin deep. We'd probably have to live here a couple of hundred years before we could persuade that lions in the neighborhood that we weren't out for their hides."

"But wouldn't it be a good thing to start? I mean, we could give a party today, say; and the next time we went out to take some pictures the lions might remember we had been nice to them and pose for us."

It was a fine theory. And we had done enough lion photography to know that the lions would not hesitate to accept our invitation. But whether it would permanently affect their attitude toward strangers remained to be seen.

I explained our plan to Bukari. "The lion likes zebra," he observed non-committally.

"Don't you think it will make them friendly?" asked Osa.

Bukari shrugged. "The black man has no friends among the lions," he said with meaning.

The first step in the scheme was to pick out our lions. As a matter of convenience it would be better to have them near some zebra so that we wouldn't have to drag our bait far.

Climbing a little eminence among the rocks behind the camp I spotted herds of both zebra and kongoni within two miles of us. I also made a mental note of the lay of the land between us and them in order to avoid involving our motor in any deep ditches or heavy grass that would be hard to drive through and also provide hiding places for unseen lions.

Before we started I set up my moving picture camera in the touring car from which I had the top removed. This gave me the advantage of moving quickly either to reach a scene or retreat from trouble. While the going was usually too rough for me to crank when the car was in motion, it was but a matter of a few seconds for Osa to stop while I trailed on any unexpected scene that deserved some film.

We now set out deliberately to feed the lions.

At this point I must add a note of explanation.

I have long been opposed to the unnecessary slaughter of game. Publicly and privately I have arraigned the thoughtless sportsman who kills excessively for no other purpose than to boast about his bag. It is a good thing for museums and some authentic personal collections to have specimens of wild game on view. The sportsman of moderate tastes does not real damage. All tend to stimulate public interest in an unknown country and often redound to the benefit of the game itself. But to kill in the sense of destroy, to slay in the cause of conceit, is surely an offense against the Almighty and a symbol of human stupidity.

Despite this we were awedly going out to shoot an innocent grass-eating animal and feed it to a beast of prey. By so doing we would seem to be flying in the face of the text we had always so strongly preached. Yet, we felt there was justification.

For instance, it is a known fact that lions in Africa kill more game in a single night than all the combined safaris kill in a month. Moreover, lions are often horribly cruel in their killing. Once I saw a lion knock over a zebra, hamstring it and begin eating at once. With the victim still living he tore its stomach out and nozzled into the poor creature's bloody entrails.

I have seen a bunch of wild dogs catch a kongoni and begin tearing flesh from its rump before I could frighten them off and put the wretched out of its misery. I have seen a sick zebra being torn to shreds by vultures who would pick its eyes out while it was still alive. Nature is very cruel in the jungle.

In contrast to the lion's method we would approach close to a herd and pick out an old animal that could afford to die—in fact was better dead in a merciful way than by waiting the cruel assassination sure to be its fate. We would easily kill at the first shot, giving our victim a quick and painless death.

On the morning of our lion-feeding adventure we drove out of camp with the boys looking anxiously after us. Osa drove; I sat beside her and Burkari balanced in the rear. If he were nervous he was careful not to show it. A headman cannot afford to exhibit any such emotion to his henchmen.

Meanwhile Osa was peering about for game from which to pick a meal for the lions. Suddenly she exclaimed: "Look there are some lions!"

It showed how sharp her eyes were that she could see them; for even with the glasses I found that the ones she had spotted were well camouflaged by stripes of shade and flecks of sunshine that made their tawny hides blur against the yellow grass behind them. They were lying in the shade of a big thorn tree. There were seven of them; big fellows and apparently in a quiet mood. Best of all, a small herd of zebra were grazing not five hundred yards upwind from them.

By careful driving we approached to within fifty yards of the zebra without their paying any attention to us. Then Osa got out and dropped one old animal with a single bullet through its heart. It was a pretty shot and the zebra never even quivered after it fell.

At once I glanced over my shoulder to see if the lions had moved. But they merely watched the herd scamper away as if they felt certain another bunch would be along soon. The noise of our gun didn't seem to disturb them a bit.

While Osa backed the car up to the dead animal, Bukari and I bound its hind legs together. We then ran the rope through between the legs and around the body in such a way that we could tow it to the spot we wished and let it go without getting out of the car. We wanted to be on the safe side in case the lions made a rush and pounced on the body. In other words, while we wished to be friendly hosts, we harbored some doubts about the table manners of our guests.

Bukari and I now climbed aboard and Osa set off in low gear toward the lions. The dead zebra towed pretty well, and stuck only a couple of times when it got jammed against rocks.

It was a ticklish business for several reasons. In the first place, Bukari and I had to watch the body closely to see that it did not jam. Osa had to keep one eye on the ground and the other on the lions. None of us could stand ready with a rifle to fend off a charge.

Moreover, when the lions got the Late News From Orange County Communities

Huntington Beach Calls Junior College Mass Meeting

EXPRESSION OF OPINION ASKED BY CIVIC BODY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 26.—The chamber of commerce at the meeting at noon yesterday at the Golden Bear cafe heard the report from the junior college committee named over a year ago. The committee reported plans for a county junior college taking in Santa Ana, Orange, Fullerton, Huntington Beach and Anaheim. The proposed junior college is to cost over a million dollars.

Joseph Vavra and M. G. Jones, committee members, presented the report and urged endorsement of the chamber. Opposition to the one junior college for the county has developed at Newport. Dr. G. A. Shank and others speaking at the chamber meeting declared the proposed college would be a heavy tax burden.

After much discussion Dr. Shank offered a motion which carried, which provides for a mass meeting of the people of Huntington Beach the evening of December 3 at the high school auditorium. At this meeting, which is open to everybody in the proposed district, the matter of Huntington Beach coming in to the junior college school district will be put to a vote of those present. This action will be merely an expression of sentiment to avoid being a part of the district. It will be necessary to obtain signatures of the voters to a petition opposing the district.

Costa Mesa Home Scene Of Party

COSTA MESA, Nov. 26.—The C. T. Seebier home was the scene of a party recently when several friends and relatives of the Seebiers met with them in a family. Those present besides the family were Mrs. Seebier's brother, A. B. Carmichael, and wife and sons; J. D. and Miles, of Oklahoma City, Okla.; I. D. Carmichael and wife and son, of Riverside; Archie Carmichael and wife, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Butler and daughter, Barbara Lou; Mrs. W. M. Harrison and sons, of Riverside; R. T. Dixon and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Butler, of Costa Mesa, and the mother of Mrs. Seebier, Mrs. M. A. Carmichael. A. B. Carmichael and wife and sons today leave for their home in Oklahoma City, Mrs. Seebier accompanying them as far as San Diego, where they will spend some time with friends.

Alleged Owner Of 28½ Gallons Booze In Celi At Beach

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 26.—Dave Hanna, 611 Joliet street, found a ready customer when he drove into his garage from Los Angeles yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. Chief of Police C. D. Stewart was waiting for Hanna and says he found 28 1/2 gallons of bootleg whiskey in the car.

It is in the liquor vault at police headquarters and Hanna is just across the aisle in a cell, awaiting trial on a charge of illegal possession of liquor.

HOLD FUNERAL OF PAUL EILFELD IN BEACH CITY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 26.—The funeral of Paul Einfeld was held from the First Methodist church Monday morning. Mr. Einfeld was killed in a automobile accident in Arizona last Wednesday afternoon, when the car in which he was riding with Marcus Howard, his son-in-law, and C. H. Howard, father of Marcus, ran into loose gravel on the highway, skidded and turned over. Einfeld jumped as the car overturned and suffered a broken neck when the car struck him. The other two occupants of the car escaped injury.

Paul Einfeld who was 59 years old, was born in Missouri. He had been a resident of Huntington Beach for 15 years. He was a painter by profession. He was active in Methodist church circles and sang in the church choir and in a male quartet. Mr. Einfeld had gone to Arizona to inspect some land he contemplated acquiring.

Interment was in Central Memorial park. The Rev. S. J. Rogers, former pastor of the Methodist church here, now of La Verne, assisted the Rev. John M. Barnhart in conducting the funeral. Charles Einfeld, of Tucson, Ariz., and Miss Minnie Einfeld, of Chicago, brother and sister of Mr. Einfeld, came here for the funeral. L. H. Hyde, of San Francisco; L. C. Hyde, of Sacramento, Miss Ella Hyde of Los Angeles, sister and brother of Mrs. Paul Einfeld, attended the funeral. Pall bearers were W. H. Taylor, R. L. Turner, Earl Schafer, C. C. Overbury, Alex McAdam and R. L. Smith. Vocal solos were sung by Charles C. Overbury, of Huntington Beach, and Mrs. Harry Bowman, of Santa Ana.

LEW WALLACE PRESIDENT OF REALTY BOARD

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 26.—The organization of the Newport Harbor Realty board was completed at the Legion hut yesterday noon, following a well attended luncheon, which was served by the members of the Legion auxiliary.

Harry Williamson, being called upon to report on the preliminary moves, said that the real estate business in the harbor district presented special features that were different from those of the inland communities and that it had been thought best to have those centering around the harbor, working from their own headquarters.

Frank D. Pope, of Santa Ana, stated that the Santa Ana board could be counted on to do all in its power to assist the new board.

Glenn D. Willaman, secretary California Real Estate association, remarked on that attitude as emblematic of the spirit of fairness engendered by the organized efforts of the past few years. He further commented on the changed appearance of the coast section since his trip to Laguna five years ago at the time of the forming of the Laguna Beach board. He congratulated Newport Beach on the passing of the $200,000 bond issue for the opening of the mouth of the harbor.

"In my opinion, the harbor is the greatest asset that this section has," Willaman said.

The election of officers resulted in the selection of Lew Wallace as president; R. G. Chambers, first vice president; Hal Will Smith, second vice president; Harry Hyde, secretary and treasurer. Harry Williamson, who had an active part in starting the movement, was named state delegate.

SEAL BEACH

SEAL BEACH, Nov. 26.—J. A. Graham and E. J. Hughes represented Seal Beach at the Orange County Coast association meeting in San Clemente Tuesday evening. W. D. Miller and Vernon Adams, two of the entrants in the international dancing contest which is being conducted by the American Legion at Signal Hill. Miss Walker has been dancing day and night since the contest started two weeks ago, and it is reported she has a chance at the championship.

Two four-year-old boys playing with matches in their home on Sixth and Ocean set the house on fire Thursday morning. The fire department responded to the call immediately but in the meantime the parents and neighbors had flooded the house with water with the garden hose. Considerable damage was caused by the water. The woman's club of Seal Beach will meet in the new city auditorium for the first time next Tuesday, when a pot luck luncheon will be served by the women, who composed the losing team in the recent contest for selling tickets to the benefit card party. Mrs. Greenwaldt was captain of the losing team and Mrs. George Green was captain of the winners.

Miss Florence Layton, who has been spending the past few months visiting in the home of her sister, Mrs. Robert Phares, left Thursday for her home in San Francisco.

Mrs. Brentlinger, of McFarlane, has come to Seal Beach to reside, having taken an apartment in the O'Connor building. Mrs. Brentlinger is the mother of Roy Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Wooding and family have moved from their home on Eighth street to 120 Seventh street.

Clarence Ward is recuperating from a recent operation performed at the Seaside hospital in Long Beach.

Mrs. Bustamente, of Hollywood, accompanied by her daughter, Josephine, were visitors in the city this week. Miss Josephine is employed as a dancer in Hollywood.

Mr. and Mrs. Proctor and Miss Anna Bierhaus spent the week end in Silverado canyon as the guests of Miss Elsie McClelland.

Commencing next week the library will be open on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. This plan is being inaugurated for the benefit of the students who need reference books in the preparation of their lessons.

Thanksgiving services will be conducted by the Rev. W. D. Wilt in the Community Methodist church Sunday morning instead of Thanksgiving day. Sunday evening the Rev. Mr. Wilt will talk on "Appreciation."

POLICE OF ANAHEIM BEGIN WAR AGAINST PUNCHBOARDS

ANAHEIM, Nov. 26.—With the approval of Mayor L. E. Miller and City Attorney George Holden, Chief of Police J. S. Bouldin yesterday started a movement for the elimination of punchboards in the city.

The operation of punchboards is forbidden by a city ordinance. Boards affected include candy, cigars and gift boards located in drug stores, pool halls and other business establishments.

According to Chief Bouldin all forms of punchboards are forbidden by the law and places of business which do not discontinue their use will have the devices taken from them. A fine of not more than $300 or 90 days in jail is the penalty for disregard of the ordinance.

Chief Bouldin said the campaign would be continued until all boards had been eliminated.

HARTRANFT IN CLUB TALK ON THANKSGIVING

ANAHEIM, Nov. 26.—Tracing the origin of Thanksgiving, S. C. Hartranft gave an interesting talk on the subject of "How Thanksgiving Began" before the members of the Rotary club at their regular meeting at the Elks clubhouse yesterday.

The speaker said the day as it is celebrated now, dated from the time of the Puritans but that in the Bible the people are directed to give thanks. Hartranft spoke of the first Thanksgiving day proclamation issued by Washington and of the setting aside of the fourth Thursday of November for the observance of the day by Lincoln.

The Rev. Thomas H. Walker, secretary of the club, was the program chairman. The program included a reading by George W. Reid, secretary of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce, entitled "The Grouch vs. the Optimist." Leonard Evans read "Thanksgiving" and Jimmie Heffron read Edgar Guest's poem, "Thanksgiving."

Birthdays of the following members were observed. The Rev. Mr. Walker, R. E. Little, Dr. H. A. Johnson, Robert Royalty, D. D. Waynick, H. H. Benjamin, B. H. Sidam and W. A. Dolan.

70 GIRLS AND BOYS PRESENT FOR ADDRESSES

ORANGE, Nov. 26.—The hospitality of Thanksgiving day was expressed in the cornucopias overflowing with fruit which were used in the decorations of the long tables in the Epworth hall of the First Methodist church last night, when more than 70 Girl Reserves and members of the Hi-Y club enjoyed their annual banquet, members of the Girl Reserves acting as hostesses to the organization of boys.

Dorothy Reynolds presided and the principal address of the evening was given by V. D. Johnson, secretary of the Orange Community Chamber of Commerce, who spoke on "Service to the Community."

The place of the young girl and the young man in the community and their relationship to the problems of the community were told by the speaker. The welcome to the guests was given by Miss Elizabeth Palmer, president of the Girl Reserves and the response was given by S. O. Hamill, president of the Hi-Y club.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Morrow were guests of honor. Morrow has been secretary of the local Y.M.C.A. for a number of years. The family leaves soon for the north.

The interesting program which followed the dinner included a solo by Charlotte Skiles, a whistling solo by Florence Campbell, with Martha Huscroft as her accompanist, and a reading by Mildred Stults.

Dinner was in charge of Mrs. Robert Gross, Mrs. Russell Kenyon, Mrs. F. D. Batchelor and Mrs. F. R. Arnold.

Miss Hannah Nesser of the Orange union high school faculty was in charge of the program. Miss Nesser is advisor to the Girl Reserves.

Short talks were made by George Walker, Scout executive, of Santa Ana; G. F. McKelvey, Alex McAdam, district commissioner. Mrs. Stella White and her daughter Miss Genevieve White, sang a duet, accompanied by Mrs. Lawrence Worthy at the piano.

Sign Boards Arouse Residents of H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 26.—Joe Wynn, automobile dealer, is taking the lead in a fight here against huge signboards placed in the business district at the instigation of the chamber of commerce of Long Beach, and placarded with invitations for the people of Huntington Beach to do their trading in Long Beach.

Public indignation against the presence of the signs here is doing Long Beach more harm than good, Wynn declared. Wynn and others are forming plans to rid the city of the signs.

Bazaar Planned By Orange Class

ORANGE, Nov. 26.—Members of the Loyal Women's class of the First Christian church are planning to hold a bazaar December 3, with a chicken dinner at noon and a supper in the evening.

At a recent meeting of the class, Mrs. R. C. Burkett, Mrs. B. Atherton and Mrs. Frank Scovell were appointed members of a nominating committee to select candidates for the annual election of officers December 20.

Mrs. V. A. Wood presided at the meeting when plans for the bazaar were completed.

TELLS OF TRIP

ORANGE, Nov. 26.—Leonard Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Morris, Santa Ana, and a student at the Santa Ana Junior college, spoke on a recent trip which he took to China, in the observance of International day in the young people's department of the First Methodist church here Sunday morning. The platform was decorated with the flags of all nations and a special musical program was given. The event was sponsored by the Booster class under the supervision of the class teacher, M. M. Fishback.

70 GIRLS AND BOYS PRESENT FOR ADDRESSES

ORANGE, Nov. 26.—The hospitality of Thanksgiving day was expressed in the cornucopias overflowing with fruit which were used in the decorations of the long tables in the Epworth hall of the First Methodist church last night, when more than 70 Girl Reserves and members of the Hi-Y club enjoyed their annual banquet, members of the Girl Reserves acting as hostesses to the organization of boys.

Dorothy Reynolds presided and the principal address of the evening was given by V. D. Johnson, secretary of the Orange Community Chamber of Commerce, who spoke on "Service to the Community."

The place of the young girl and the young man in the community and their relationship to the problems of the community were told by the speaker.

The welcome to the guests was given by Miss Elizabeth Palmer, president of the Girl Reserves and the response was given by S. O. Hamill, president of the Hi-Y club.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Morrow were guests of honor. Morrow has been secretary of the local Y.M.C.A. for a number of years. The family leaves soon for the north.

The interesting program which followed the dinner included a solo by Charlotte Skiles, a whistling solo by Florence Campbell, with Martha Huscroft as her accompanist, and a reading by Mildred Stults.

Dinner was in charge of Mrs. Robert Gross, Mrs. Russell Kenyon, Mrs. F. D. Batchelor and Mrs. F. R. Arnold.

Miss Hannah Nesser of the Orange union high school faculty was in charge of the program. Miss Nesser is advisor to the Girl Reserves.

Short talks were made by George Walker, Scout executive, of Santa Ana; G. F. McKelvey, Alex McAdam, district commissioner. Mrs. Stella White and her daughter Miss Genevieve White, sang a duet, accompanied by Mrs. Lawrence Worthy at the piano.

CHURCH TO RETAIN OLD SCHOOL BELL

ORANGE, Nov. 26.—When the old building on South Olive street which has served St. John's Lutheran church as a parochial school for a quarter of a century, is torn down or sold, the bell which swings in the tower will be preserved, it was learned today.

The bell was hung in the tower shortly after the school was completed in 1904 and was the gift of the late Henry Dierker to the church society. William Battersman, present principal of the school, has been in charge of the school since its establishment at this location.

The old bell has been silent now since the building was abandoned as an institute of learning this fall and the scholars and teachers established themselves in the new school across from the Walker Memorial hall. According to A. C. Bode, pastor of St. John's, the exact use to which the bell will be put has not yet been decided.

Preparations are now being made to dispose of the school property.

COSTA MESA HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE

COSTA MESA, Nov. 26.—A curtain blowing into the flame of an oil stove started a fire in the home of Mrs. C. Rochon, which completely destroyed the four-room house, between Orange and Santa Ana streets. The fire occurred between 5 and 6 o'clock last evening.

Mrs. Rochon and her son were alone in the house at the time and barely escaped with their lives, so quickly was the whole structure in flames. The house was partially insured.

600 Cars Citrus Fruit Shipped By House In Tustin

TUSTIN, Nov. 26.—Closing a successful season of packing, the Golden West Citrus association announces shipment of 600 cars of oranges for the season.

Approximately 100 persons have been employed in both the house and field with an average payroll of $3,000 per week. Three pools were run during the season, with shipments going to all parts of the United States, principally New York city. From New York, a large amount of the fruit was exported to London and the Continent. The sales for the last pool have not been completed.

Worrying about kidneys?

Take courage—
a big discovery

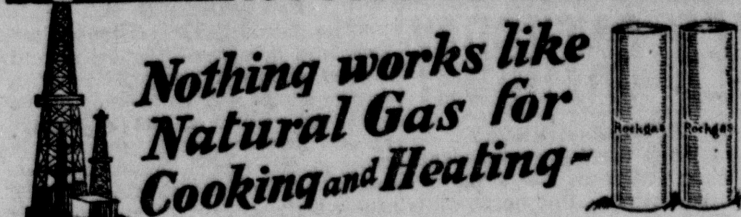

A REMARKABLE kidney discovery has been made in Mexico. Milk or sap from the famous mayague plant has proved to be an amazing aid to health. The fresh sap is called "aguamel." Now it has been concentrated and the name shortened to Agmel.

Everyone can now have this great health food, this valuable tonic in kidney deficiencies, high blood pressure, indigestion and glycosuria. Men and women entering middle life should investigate Agmel. People of every age should know about it—particularly those who are being warned of danger by frequent arising at night, backaches, other symptoms. Nothing works like
Natural Gas for Cooking and Heating—

~everyone can have it now~

NO finer tribute could be paid to any fuel than the fact that where gas can be obtained in the customary way (the regular gas mains) 99 per cent of the homes use it. And the reason gas is preferred is because it is the fastest, cleanest, most economical and most convenient fuel there is for cooking and heating.

Rockgas, the natural gas in small tanks, gives you the same benefits regardless of where you live.

CONVENIENT TERMS:—The complete installation, including kitchen range and automatic water heater, can be had for a small down payment and the balance over ten months. Let us show you and explain this natural gas service in detail. No obligation.

HE HAD A THREAT IN HIS EYE

"I don't know what your game is, but this is my zebra and you'd better keep away." He was a full grown young lion in the prime of life. He had already thrashed an older lion and sent him away; but he allowed the four young lionesses to eat with him. He would look up every minute or two and growl at us a little and warn us to come no closer.

LIONS

True Stories of the Ferocity of the African Lion
By Martin Johnson

scent of the dead animal, they all sprang to their feet, thoroughly interested for the first time in our strange behavior. I suppose up to that moment they had as usual put us down as some sort of large animal grazing about.

"I think they're coming, Martin!" shouted Osa, not daring to look around.

As I jerked my eyes from the zebra to the lions I saw the biggest of them run forward in a few short steps. He lifted his head when he heard Osa shout. But he almost immediately lowered it and glared in the direction of the dead zebra. His expression and movements were much like those of a cat who is being tempted by some object pulled along at the end of a string.

His impulse was divided between suspicion of us and desire to get at the moving prey which must have smelled so alluringly.

"He will come!" broke out the imperturbable Bukari in my ear.

And he did.

Suddenly in great graceful bounds the lion galloped straight for the zebra. His eyes were narrowed and his mouth open. The fresh breeze waved his thick black mane into a handsome fringe in which was set his ferocious countenance.

As Osa couldn't go into second without stalling until I let go the line, she at once began to yell for me to cast off.

Of course it all happened in a few seconds. The oncoming lion was covering many feet at every bound. But we had no business being tied to the meat he was after. Let him once discover that we were pulling it away and he wouldn't hesitate to fight us on any terms. By quick work we might shoot him before any great damage was done. But by this time the other lions, which had already begun to advance, would no doubt join the fray.

"Let go!" cried Osa again.

"The devil of it was I couldn't let go!"

The confounded rope had become knotted in such a way that it wouldn't slip. I tugged at it until the skin came off one finger and sweat poured down my face.

Meanwhile Bukari sprang for the rifle. Osa didn't dare stop because she couldn't afford to lose headway. And I felt chained to the rope with the frantic hope that it would give way at any moment.

Luckily the rope slipped a bit, opening the distance between us and the zebra. This caused the lion to change his course slightly, indicating that he would pass us up for the time being.

Then just as he leaped upon the body the rope slipped and we were free. As Osa quickly threw the clutch into second I sat back and mopped my brow. The lion didn't begin to eat at once. Instead he poised himself atop the zebra and glared defiantly at us.

As soon as we got clear of the other lions, which were still coming up, we made a short turn and advanced to within fifty feet of the kill. The lion was still standing up stiffly as if prepared to defend the prize which he seemed to think he had captured from us. He began to growl and slowly lowered his hind quarters as if making ready to charge.

As it seemed prudent to stop at this point, I touched Osa on the shoulder and she put on the brake without stopping the engine. Then I began to crank out film, standing on the body of the truck.

"Come a foot further and I'll get you!" the lion growled again.

To which I replied aloud: "Don't worry, old man. The light and distance are exactly right as we are."

He let go, a couple of mean snorts when I spoke, but presently lowered his head and buried his teeth in the zebra's shoulder.

BUENA PARK

BREA, Nov. 26.—Mr. and Mrs. D. L. King, of Homewood avenue, entertained with a dinner party recently in compliment to Mrs. King's cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Anglin, who are visiting here from Tulsa, Okla. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Noble and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Noble, of Buena Park. Cards furnished the evening's entertainment.

Dorothy Lee Baumstark celebrated her fifth birthday Friday by giving a party for her little friends in her home on Homewood avenue. Many merry games were enjoyed by the children, after which Mrs. Baumstark served refreshments to the little guests, the centerpiece on the table being the birthday cake with five candles. Guests were George Payne, Jean Eason, Jimmie Johnson, Thelma Qualls, Wayne Sassen, Alvin and Lyle Davis.

W. E. Tice Jr. entertained a number of friends in his home on Grand avenue recently in observance of his birthday anniversary. Games and contests were enjoyed by the boys and Mrs. Tice served dainty refreshments of ice cream, punch, candy and birthday cake.

A pretty pink and white color scheme prevailed in the decorations and table appointments, the centerpiece being a bowl of pink sweet peas. Guests were Eugene Ccloud, Wayne Ralph and Roy Shreve and Rosser Williams.

FOR you who demand the last word in tires—endurance far ahead of modern driving conditions—the Firestone Supreme was created. Here is the tire that is stronger, more durable and better looking than any tire ever made. It costs more and is worth more because it is more economical and gives you tire service above and beyond anything the motor world has ever known. It has everything and more than the famous Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires which already hold all records for speed, safety, economy and mileage. This means greater air volume—thicker tread—added number of plies of Gum-Dipped Cords—better non-skid protection for safety—improved riding qualities. Come and see it—you will want a full set on your car at once—a liberal allowance will be made for your old tires.

CITY'S JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOLS VIE TOMORROW

The annual "Big Game" between Santa Ana's two junior high schools will be played at Poly field here tomorrow afternoon.

The Spartans of Julia C. Lathrop and the Indians of Frances E. Willard will take the gridiron for the kickoff at 3 o'clock.

Not only will the city championship be decided by the contest, but also on the showing of the two teams will depend who is selected for a Santa Ana all-star team which will play together next week against some strong outside competition.

Fifth Game Between Rivals

Tomorrow's game will be the fifth annual meeting of the two schools. Local junior high competition began in 1924 when Lathrop won by a 19 to 6 score. Lathrop won in 1925, 10 to 6.

In 1926 Coach Ferris Scott of Lathrop had a team made up of eighth graders, many of whom are on the high school squad at present—Pangle, Crumley, Whitford, Meisinger and Howard—and they helped run up a 26 to 0 score.

The next year practically the whole team returned and there was no Lathrop-Willard game because of the inequality in the two teams.

Spartans Won Last Year

Last year the Spartans scored a 22 to 7 victory. All but three of last year's team have graduated so it is hard to predict the outcome of tomorrow's game. Both schools have played different teams during the past season so that there isn't much room for comparison.

The Lathrop team has lost but one game during the season and that was a night contest at Anaheim. The Lathrop backfield suffered a tremendous loss yesterday afternoon when Shafer returned to school with physician's orders to play no more football for the remainder of the season because of an injured shoulder.

Herb Bove will call signals from the fullback position. Duncan and Crumley will play halfback and Kilder will play quarterback. The starters in the line will be Bove and Crawford, ends; Dyer and Smith, tackles; Douglas and Fowler, guards, and Hixson, center.

Johnson Off For East To Get Players

Ernie Johnson, manager of the Seattle club of the Pacific Coast league, will leave Laguna Beach this week for a "shopping tour" in the east. He admits he is going after some ball players for the Indians with whom he recently signed as skipper for the second year.

Johnson expects to confer with major league magnates in the east and also attend the minor league magnates' sessions at Chattanooga. He will meet Bill Klepper, owner of the Seattle club, in the east.

Seattle is expected to train at San Clemente again next spring.

FITZGERALD TO BATTLE VICTOR OF GO TONIGHT

Freddie Fitzgerald, celebrated Eastern welterweight who has been going through the contest fighting ranks like a tornado, will meet the winner of tonight's Jimmie Rivers-Frankie Forbes 10-round main event at the Orange County Athletic club, Promoter H. T. Foust announced definitely today.

With this added incentive, Rivers and Forbes, both young, ambitious fighters, are expected to throw caution to the winds in an effort to win convincingly and establish themselves as contenders.

TONIGHT'S CARD

Main event—Indian Jimmie Rivers, Fullerton, 10 rounds, 147 pounds.

Semi-windup—"Wild Man" Macias vs. Joe Rinehardt, 148 pounds, 6 rounds.

Preliminaries—Frankie Boldt vs. Johnny Martinez, 135 pounds, 6 rounds; "Tex" Stennett vs. Sid Gregory, 4 rounds; "Chick" Peralta vs. Billy Montoya, 4 rounds.

ers and Forbes, both young, ambitious fighters, are expected to throw caution to the winds in an effort to win convincingly and establish themselves as contenders.

Saints, Covina Meet Saturday

CONTEST WITH FULLERTON IS POSSIBLE ALSO

Santa Ana high school will play at least one and perhaps two more football games this season. The Covina Colts, coached by Ted Gorrill, former University of Southern California guard, will meet the Saints at Poly field here Saturday afternoon.

Arrangements for this tussle were definitely completed today.

Santa Ana also will oppose its old athletic rival, Fullerton, unless Coach Ernest Y. Johnson's Indians make the playoffs for the Southern California interscholastic championship.

The Santa Ana-Fullerton game is tentatively scheduled for Saturday, December 7.

Indians to Meet Poets

Nothing definite will be known about the Fullerton affair until after Thanksgiving day when the Indians close their regular football schedule by meeting Whittier at Whittier. On the same day, Muir Tech of Pasadena, which is tied with Fullerton for the league lead and which recently placed a scoreless tie with the Big Red Team, faces Monrovia.

If Whittier ties or beats Fullerton, the Indians will be eliminated from the foothill loop race and Fullerton will be free to play Santa Ana. If Fullerton and Muir Tech both win, which is probable, they will be tied for the leadership and a playoff between them will be necessary to determine which goes into the sectional playoffs. In that case a Santa Ana-Fullerton meeting would be impossible.

Dispirited because of their 6 to 0 defeat by San Diego here last Saturday and their consequent elimination from the Coast Preparatory league pennant scramble, the Saints implored Coach "Tex" Oliver for at least one more game.

Team Anxious to Play

Team members were dissatisfied with their showing against the Hilltoppers and they want to show the public they can do better, although most unbiased critics believed the Saints played a high class football game against another high grade eleven here Saturday, and that they have nothing for which to apologize.

Covina, although defeated several weeks ago by Huntington Beach, has one of the best records in Southern California. The Colts do not belong to any particular league and so they arrange all their games free lance. This year they have opposed some of the leading teams in the Southland and have frequently played as often as twice in the same week as was

INDIAN MIDGET TEAM DEFEATS SPARTANS, 6-0

BY JACK PEGUES

The Frances E. Willard junior high school 110-pound football team defeated the Julia C. Lathrop Midgets, 6-0, yesterday on the high school field.

In the first and second quarters Lathrop seemed to have the edge on the Indians, most of the playing being in Willard territory. They were unable to score, however.

During the third quarter the two teams were on more even terms and the whistle found them on the 50-yard line.

With the beginning of the fourth period the Lathrop defense began to weaken, the ball packers being thrown for losses frequently. On the fourth down, 10 yards from their own goal the Spartan fullback Prelinger, kicked and Swisshelm of Willard, receiving, ran 20 yards around right end for a touchdown.

This was the third game between the 110-pounders, the first game going to Julia Lathrop, the score being 15-6, and the second was a scoreless tie. Thus, the teams finished on even terms.

TOULANE SOUTH'S FASTEST

Tulane university's 1929 eleven is said to be the fastest in the history of southern football and the most versatile in handling the ball.

BOOM OLIVER. COOK FOR JOB AT SAN DIEGO

Unbeknown to each other, two Santa Ana football coaches were more or less willing candidates today for the same position.

They were "Tex" Oliver, Santa Ana high school coach for the last four years, and Bill Cook, Santa Ana junior college mentor for the last three seasons.

They have been recommended for the job as head coach at San Diego State college which is a member of the Southern conference along with such institutions as Pomona, Occidental, Whittier, Caltech and Redlands.

Peterson To Retire

C. E. Peterson has been tutoring the Aztec elevens for several years but he intends to retire at the end of the present season and devote his entire attention to directing the athletic department of which he is head.

Peterson will recommend his successor to N. P. Neilson, chief of the division of health and physical education in California, and the state board of education.

The appointment will not be announced until spring.

Since the announcement that San Diego State college is "in the market" for a football coach next fall numerous applications have been received by Peterson and other men have been recommended by friends, though it is not known if they are interested.

Many Recommended

Among those recommended are: "Tex" Oliver, Santa Ana high; Alfred W. Townner, who succeeded Hobbs Adams, now San Diego high school varsity coach, as coach of Monrovia high school; John R. Nichols, formerly of Coronado high school, now at Oxnard high school; Bill Cook, Santa Ana junior college; Manuel Lareneta, former U. S. C. star, who is coaching San Pedro high school, and George Hobbs, Alhambra high school.

Fred Solomon, Stockton high school mentor, is reported to be angling for the job, Solomon was a star at Stanford in 1924 and 1925. Joe Lieb of Notre Dame, who neglected to state who is guiding the Indians in Knute Rockne's absence, has submitted an application. Lieb was halfback at Notre Dame two years ago.

Oliver coached at San Diego high school before coming to Santa Ana. Cook joined the junior college staff direct from the University of Southern California.

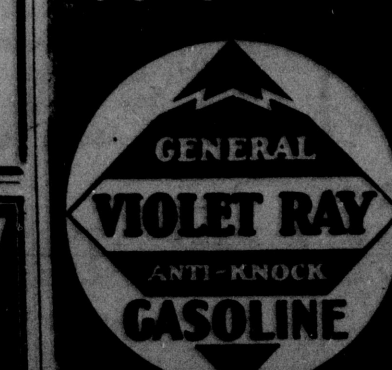

ST. MARY'S MEETS OREGON THURSDAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26. — Thanksgiving Day will bring St. Mary's college something "really big" to be thankful for if it succeeds in defeating the University of Oregon gridders who will arrive here tomorrow for a preliminary workout before the game.

Oregon suffered only one defeat this year—by Stanford—and has wins over Idaho, Washington, U. C. L. A. and Oregon State to its credit. This record entitles Oregon to a tie for first place in the Pacific Coast conference with the "Big Three," California, Stanford, and U. S. C., so that if St. Mary's is able to take the Webfooters' measure Thursday, the Gaels will be recognized as the best in the west.

GRIDDER LIKES BASEBALL. Lincoln Silsby, 20-year-old reserve fullback on the University of Florida eleven, aspires to a career in the major leagues. He stars in baseball at Florida.

Jaycee Classic Tickets Available Now

A block of approximately 600 tickets for reserved seats to the Thanksgiving Day game here between Santa Ana and Fullerton junior colleges went on sale today at the Victor Walker sporting goods store, 219 West Fourth street.

Three hundred tickets have been sent to Fullerton.

Thursday's game decides the 1929 championship of the Southern California jaycee conference.

Officials will allow the parking of automobiles around the gridiron for a nominal sum.

FIVE UNBEATEN ELEVENS CLOSE SKED SATURDAY

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Five major football teams—Pittsburgh, Tulane, Utah, Notre Dame and Texas Christian—face the final barrier this week between them and a perfect football season.

Two major elevens—Ohio university and Purdue—already have completed the season with perfect records, neither tied nor beaten.

Two other unbeaten and untied teams—Tennessee and Western Maryland—have two games each remaining on their schedules. Tennessee plays Kentucky at Lexington Thursday and South Carolina at Knoxville December 7. Western Maryland plays Muhlenberg at Allentown, Pa. Thursday and Maryland at Baltimore December 7.

Three of the unbeaten brigade seem fairly safe, but the rest will have their records endangered by the stiffest kind of opposition.

Pittsburgh is a strong favorite to beat Penn State at Pittsburgh Thanksgiving day. Penn State already has been beaten by New York U. 7 to 0, and Bucknell 27 to 6.

Tulane is highly favored over Louisiana State at Baton Rouge Thursday. Louisiana State has taken lopsided defeats from Kansas and Duke.

Utah appears strong enough to dispose of the Utah Aggies Thursday and finish the season among the nation's outstanding teams.

Hard tests await Notre Dame, Texas Christian and Tennessee on Saturday. Notre Dame, minus its star center, Tim Moynihan, plays Army at Yankee stadium. Texas Christian faces the unbeaten but thrice tied Southern Methodist eleven at Fort Worth. Tennessee mingles with Kentucky, beaten only by Alabama, at Lexington.

Western Maryland's big test comes a week from Saturday when this little team plays Maryland, which tied Yale 13-13.

St. Mary's (California) which is still unbeaten but tied by California, will have its perfect defense record endangered this week when the Gaels play the University of Oregon at San Francisco. Oregon has rolled up 137 points and lost only to Stanford.

GAME HERE TO DECIDE JAYCEE CHAMPIONSHIP

"Fullerton may have a heavier backfield and they outweigh us in the line but Santa Ana will make up for that handicap in fight."

Thus today stated Coach Bill Cook, football chief for some 35 grid candidates at the Santa Ana junior college as the Don squad trained earnestly for the titular game Thanksgiving day with the strong Fullerton Yellowjackets on Poly field here.

"I will not concede Fullerton any advantage or any more touchdowns," further stated the dynamic coach, in commenting on the coming struggle. "The other team has better kickers and perhaps better passers and their backs have a 10-pound weight advantage but the game is just a toss-up."

Don Attitude O. K.

From Santa Ana's standpoint, the Dons are in a perfect physical and mental frame of mind. Every man on the squad will be in good shape with the return of Melvin Beatty, speedy halfback, who injured his knee in the Long Beach contest. Beatty was on the sidelines during the Glendale game last Saturday but worked out yesterday. Orville Schuchardt, who returned to the squad after a seven weeks' absence, gave a good report of himself in the Glendale tussle and will be rarin' to go against the Swarm.

Psychologically speaking, the Padres are quite well situated. Given the scare of their lives at Glendale, when the Buccaneers nearly made away with the Santa Ana chances for a championship, the Dons are anxious to redeem themselves.

Coach Cook wasn't pleased with their showing which was one of the poorest of the season including the Chaffey disaster several weeks ago. Indications that the Fullerton embroglio is going to draw a big crowd that might possibly rival the record-breaking mob at the San Diego-Santa Ana prep game Saturday appeared today.

900 Seats Reserved

Local officials are reserving 900 seats in the center of the grandstand and if the ducks sell fast, more will go on sale. Fullerton already has a large share of the reserved seats and other shipments are being made to Anaheim and other interested centers. Despite the counter attraction at Anaheim, where the Brea-Olinda and Orange high outfits tangle in a playoff game, interest in jaycee affairs is marked.

In the matter of gate receipts, the local college was most royally fleeced this year and the Fullerton game will have to go a long way toward redeeming the Don treasury. Everything was fine at the first of the year. Quite a few good home games were booked for Santa Ana but when Pomona and Citrus both dropped out of the conference, the

CANDIDATES IN BASKETBALL TO PRACTICE SOON

Basketball practice will begin immediately at Santa Ana high school and junior college. It was announced today by the various coaches. The Jaycee squad will not report until next week as quite a few players are on the football team which winds up its season Thanksgiving Day.

A schedule of practice sessions was drawn up yesterday as the four teams have to take "turns about" in using the limited floor space at the local gymnasium.

The same coaches that tutored the teams last year will have charge this winter. This gives Coach Clyde Patton the high school varsity, Coach Bill Cook the Class B team, Coach Clyde Cook the Class C team and Coach Bill Foot the junior college.

Coach Patton is highly optimistic over the prospects this year for a winning varsity. Although few lettermen are reporting, several members of last year's championship Class B team are enrolled, besides several high class junior high school recruits. The "Bees" and "Cees" will be built from the ground up as usual while the junior college has quite a lot of excellent material, both from last year and from high school graduates who matriculated at the local college.

This will be Forbes' first engagement in Santa Ana but the Hollywood main-eventer hopes it will not be his last. It won't if he masters Rivers but the Indian is a tough number these days and will be a slight favorite if gossip in cauliflower-eared circles means anything.

Joe Rinehardt, Long Beach, and "Wild Man" Macias, Los Alamitos, are listed for the six-round semi.

Frankie Boldt, a high class lightweight, meets Johnny Martinez in the six-round special event.

the case when they lost to Huntington Beach, 6 to 0.

The Saints held a light workout yesterday and were to resume training today in earnest. The squad is in splendid condition. Although the San Diego contest was the toughest of the season none of Oliver's players suffered injuries. In fact the Saint tutor had to make only two substitutions. He replaced Marvin Johnston at guard with Winfield Martin at the beginning of the second half. Johnston went back in near the end of the game and Lloyd Nuzum, who did not start because he had been out of a flu bed only two days, replaced Don Crumley at halfback near the tail end of the affair.

TOTAL BASE RECORDS

Lou Fossaca led the American league in total bases for a single game with 14 during the 1929 season, followed by Lou Gehrig and Marty McManus with 13 each, Joe Cronin with 12, Al Simmons, Heinie Manush and Jimmy Fox with 11 each and Harry Hellmann with 10.

DONS TO MEET FULLERTON IN TITULAR GAME

schedule was revised and the Padres got a very bad deal. Pasadena, the first team to come here, was plenty good but early games possess comparatively little drawing power or interest. San Bernardino, having lost every game, was a "white elephant" and a paltry crowd trickled through the turnstiles. Consequently, the Fullerton "gate" will have to be above par or Jaycee athletes will suffer for the rest of the year.

Dons Can Win Title

If Santa Ana takes Fullerton into camp, the league title will transfer here from the Pasadena flagpole, where the pennant has flown for the past four years. By virtue of the victory over Pasadena in the earlier game, the Cookmen will automatically get the crown by beating the hornets. On the other hand, if the Northerners get hostile and dump over the locals, Pasadena will succeed itself as champion because the only Fullerton defeat was at the hands of Pasadena. Fullerton will be left out in the cold either way unless Pasadena succumbs to Long Beach, a second division club, and Fullerton routs Santa Ana.

Cook will specialize on a passing defense today and tomorrow to prepare for the Yellowjackets. This type of offense seems to fool the Santa Anans to quite a great extent and has been the only thorn all season.

Statistics show that the four times the Don goal has been crossed, a pass was responsible each time. Chaffey intercepted two heavies in a pre-season game and chalked up two touchdowns. Then when the two teams met in conference competition, the Panthers sneaked over another pass and downed the locals, 6 to 0. Glendale added the finishing touch Saturday by shooting a screaming pass over the center of the line.

Swarm Uses Passes

Just how necessary a pass defense is needed is found in the record of the Fullerton eleven which has used an aerial game to great advantage all season. Last Saturday, in a hot tiff with Chaffey, the Swarm was lucky to pull the game out of the fire with a pass in the closing minutes of play. Vince Philippi, all-star back, shoots passes all over the lot, besides doing other numerous things too good to mention. Likely as not, a gent "Mutt" Dauser by name, will be on the other end of Philippi's passes and when this same gent gets rambling, scores are apt to be frequent.

Fullerton backers snicker up their sleeves when Santa Ana's veteran line is mentioned for all-conference honors and point with pride to their own heavy and experienced forward wall. A great battle is a certainty and both teams should be hard pressed to win, just as the San Diego and Santa Ana high school players battled last Saturday. The usual lineup will start but it is uncertain if Melvin Beatty can wrest his old halfback position away from little John Sweetnam, who played the whole 60 minutes at Glendale in great fashion.

Garlock will be at quarter, either Manderscheid or Rime at full and Franklin Van Meter and either Beatty or Sweetnam at halfbacks. In the line, George Warner and Ed Adams will play ends, Captain Herold Hyton and Ernest Stump, tackles, Bill Crawford and Joe Warner guards and Al Kluthe, center. Hal Dunham, end, Tim Wallace and Frank Miles, tackles, Sam Griswold, guard, and Baxter Geeting, Orville Schuchardt, Jack Dutton and John Keeler in the backfield are almost sure to see action during the afternoon.

NOTRE DAME SEASON TO CLOSE SATURDAY

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 26.—Coach Knute Rockne has announced that the Notre Dame season will be over when his team meets Army in New York Saturday.

There was some belief that Notre Dame might accept an invitation to play in the Tournament of Roses game in California on New Year's Day but Rockne's announcement seems to preclude any possibility of this.

"We have played enough football when we finish our schedule," Rockne said. "A mythical national football title is something which has been created but we play football for the sport."

Killifer Is Now Mission President

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—"Red" Killifer started today as president and manager of the Mission club of the Pacific Coast league on a three-year contract. The price was not announced, although it was made known Killifer received a substantial salary increase.

His first official act was to leave with Vice President Joe Bearwald for Pittsburgh, where he will confer on "Mickey" Finn and Gordon Slade, the Missions' keystone combination.

NINE MADE FIVE HITS

No American league batsman in 1929 tied the circuit record of making six hits in a game, but there were nine who made five hits, five of whom made five hits in five times at bat.

Army football teams have lost only to Notre Dame and Illinois of their mid-western opponents. The Cadets have won from Chicago, Kansas, St. Louis, Detroit and Nebraska.

THE BYRD EXPEDITION
chose Chesterfield

Few tests are fool-proof—but the Byrd Antarctic Expedition used one when it chose cigarettes for its two years in the ice.

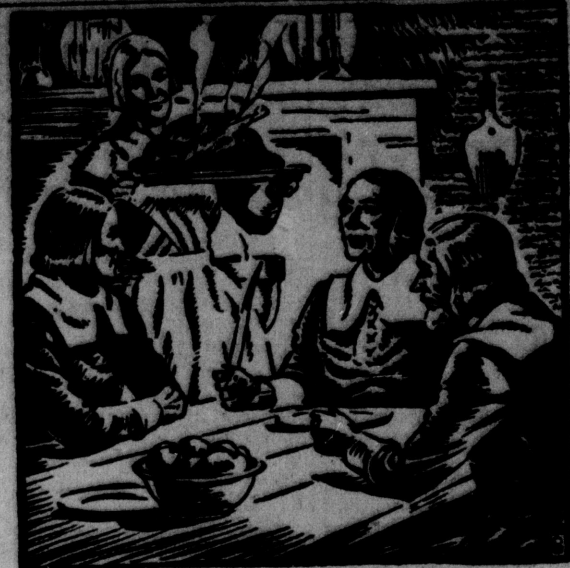

Members of the expedition—all men of judgment and experience—were simply asked, "What cigarette do you like best?" And a large majority answered Chesterfield.

Picked men, picked cigarettes...cigarettes chosen for the only reason that ever appeals to experienced smokers: dependable good taste—

CAFES AND RESTAURANTS IN AND NEAR SANTA ANA PLAN REAL THANKSGIVING DINNERS

Chefs directing menus for various eating places in Orange county are giving special consideration to preparation of elaborate eats, it was revealed to The Register's "dinner specialist" in a tour of cafes and hotels that extended as far south as Carlsbad.

It also was disclosed that in many instances chefs visited have been associated with some of the best eating places in the United States, and that they have catered to the taste of the elite in the big cities.

Family dinner, of course, will prevail in many homes, but the custom of small families going to a cafe or hotel for their Thanksgiving dinner is increasing yearly, and every indication points increasing numbers at various places in this city and county.

"It is cheaper for our small family to go to a public eating place for dinner than to prepare the meal at home," commented one mother, today, in pointing out that in addition to the actual saving in costs, she was relieved of the responsibility and work of preparing the meal and then passing the greater portion of the afternoon in performance of household duties attendant upon a special dinner.

Many Fine Turkeys

Investigation among turkey raisers have disclosed that many fine birds have been fed with a view to offering the finest meat possible for the big day of eating, and hundreds of the birds grown in Orange county will be offered as a sacrifice for the day of general thanksgiving for the blessings of the past year—and in Orange county the blessings have been abundant and substantial.

If the report by the specialist following his visit to various cafes, restaurants and hotels can be believed, those who visit these places for dinner on Thursday are going to have eats that will be the "best ever" and—well, the morning after may be different than the average morning.

In Santa Ana a great deal of fuss is going on in the kitchens of the more progressive caterers. The Rossmore cafeteria, Ivy Steak Inn, James, Jersey Lunch, Katner's cafe, Fuller's, and the Saddlerock cafe will vie with the food delicacies of the most tempting nature.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Second Book Review section of Ebell will meet tomorrow afternoon, 2 o'clock, with Mrs. W. H. DeWolfe, North Broadway.

Ebell History to Be
On Sale at Next Meeting

The history of the Ebell society of Santa Ana which has been compiled by Mrs. Victor Montgomery, historian of the organization, and which was to have been on sale at the Founders day meeting yesterday will not be ready for an announcement made at yesterday's business session by Mrs. Robert G. Tutthill, president.

Mrs. Tutthill stated that there will be only 250 copies available and that those wishing to order one may do so by phoning either Mrs. A. G. Flagg or Mrs. W. B. Williams.

An interesting account of the district meeting of the Federation of Women's clubs held last week in San Bernardino was given by Miss Louise Tubbs who said that the club was represented by nine delegates during the entire three days session.

Mrs. W. H. Haddon, treasurer, announced that in keeping with a custom she established a number of years ago, Mrs. J. R. Medlock, a past president and charter member of Ebell, had presented the society with $50, "in honor of its birthday."

Miss Lulu Minter, chairman of the International Artists series committee, reported that $350 had been cleared by the Harry Lauder concert. She said that members having season tickets for the concert series may make reservations for the first concert at which the English singers will appear December 6, after Monday at the Santa Ana book store.

Mrs. Clyde Back, chairman of the Day Nursery committee, asked that members wishing to assist needy families on Thanksgiving day notify her as she is in touch with two that will not be cared for through the usual channels.

Mrs. John Tessmann, representing the University Women's club displayed the historical map of Orange county which is to be sold by the club as a benefit for the Junior college scholarship fund. She stated that they may be ordered through any member of the club or at the Santa Ana book store.

Newlyweds Honored
At Many Affairs

Since their wedding November 17 Mr. and Mrs. Harley McColeman of 2007 South Garvey street have been honored at several enjoyable events. Mrs. McColeman was formerly Miss Alice Dent, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Dent of 1006 West Bishop street. The pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride.

The latest affair to compliment the couple was a party given by employees of Raitts' dairy with which Mr. McColeman is connected. Following a merry opening of games the guests presented the bride and groom with a handsome floor lamp. The affair was concluded with a supper served in Ketter's gold room.

Other parties given for the two were presided over by Miss Hazel Storn of Newport road, Tustin, and Mrs. Esther Runnels of Tustin.

Grace Wood Jess Charms
Ebell Audience with Song Program

Yesterday afternoon's Ebell audience was completely carried away by the charm of Grace Wood Jess who presented a series of folk songs as a part of Founders day program, for yesterday Ebell society of Santa Ana celebrated the thirty-fifth anniversary of its organization.

Wearing beautiful costumes for the various groups, Miss Jess sang of sorrow, of happiness, of wonder, her lovely voice, flexible and impressive, accompanied by her hands which completely fascinated Ebell members who were privileged to hear her.

For her first group of songs, bayou ballads of Louisiana Creoles, Miss Jess was gown in a frock of the 1840's of pink taffeta with ruffled skirt. Her numbers included "The Love of Marianne," a love song, "Gai, Gai, Solingue," a Creole lullaby, and "Gardes Mille-la, Mille Banjo."

Wearing Mrs. Lincoln's Dress
Wearing a black figured dress that had been a part of the wardrobe of Mary Lincoln, the singer concluded the group of Southern songs with two Negro spirituals, "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" and "Run, Mary, Run," which were made more interesting as Miss Jess explained their origin.

As gay and vivacious as any Spanish senorita in her white lace frock and mantilla worn with red slippers, Miss Jess sang two folk songs of Spain, "Don Simon" and "La Violetera." In the latter song, she took the part of a flower girl and at intervals threw dainty corsages into the audience.

As colorful as her brief skirt of red and blue and jeweled head dress, were the three Russian songs which followed, "Chinese Love Song," "Child, May Dear God Have Pity," the pathos of which brought tears to the eyes of nearly everyone in the audience, and "Song of a Street Singer of Odessa," a merry gypsy lay.

Miss Jess was serenely beautiful in the next group of songs which were presented in French and were entitled "Golden Legends in the Life of Christ." During this group the woman's quartet of the Santa Ana Junior college which includes Katherine Kirven, Frances Harper, Audra Schmid and Nada Smith Hill, and which was directed by Clarence Gustlin, assisted the singer.

Gives French Songs

The program, for which Raymond McFeeters acted as accompanist, was concluded with some merry French selections and an amusing Hebrew song.

Proceeding the song program, Mrs. J. R. Medlock, who is a past president of Ebell and who is also a charter member, read the list of those women who organized the club, those who were present stood as their names were called. Several members unable to be present sent greetings to the society which were read by Miss Louise Tubbs, corresponding secretary.

A tea followed in the peacock room where charter members were guests of honor. The tea table, centered with a basket of golden chrysanthemums that was flanked with tall yellow tapers, was lovely with its snowy linens and silver tea service which was presided over by four past presidents, Mrs. J. R. Medlock, Mrs. C. F. Cross, Mrs. Angus J. Cruickshank and Mrs. Terry Stephenson.

Seventh Birthday Is Occasion for Party

Little Ralston Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Anderson of 2335 Oakmont street, celebrated his seventh birthday anniversary at his home Saturday afternoon. Assisting Mrs. Anderson in planning the affair were Mrs. Garmon Rogers and Mrs. Carl Nelson.

Games were enjoyed throughout the afternoon and colorful caps, crickets and confetti added to the merriment of the afternoon.

Refreshments were served on the front lawn where tables were arranged in a circle with green and white appointments.

Mrs. Otto Anderson, grandmother of the small host, and Mrs. Nelson, of Iowa, mother of Mrs. Rogers, were guests of the affair. Those present were John Blauer, Frederick Blauer, Bruce Adkinson, Howard Adkinson, Howard Rapp Jr., Raymond Ross, Kenneth Brown, Henriette Rudd, Beekie Boeman, Phyllis Beeman, Hugh Brooks, Norman Hatter and Lionel Hatter, Jack Ball Jr., Billie George, Harold Yost Jr., Dickie Nelson of Orange, Jack Ralph, George Platt Jr., and Lyle Anderson Jr.

Pretty Tea Presented
As Compliment to Miss Armstrong

The seventy-fifth anniversary of the birthday of Miss Ellen Armstrong of 719 Cypress avenue was celebrated in merry fashion yesterday when she was the honored guest at a party given by her friend and neighbor, Mrs. Carey Haynes of 623 Cypress avenue.

Miss Armstrong is well known in this city where she has lived for 24 years, coming here with her father in 1905 from Iowa. She has lived at her present address most of that time.

Assisting Mrs. Haynes in planning the party was Mrs. Walter Dunlap.

Following an afternoon of friendly reminiscence the guests found their places at one large table where covers were marked with small Mayflower lights in full sail. The table was lighted with tall green tapers which cast a warm glow over the low bowl of red roses which formed the centerpiece. Green glassware was used for the serving of the delicious menu.

Following the tea hour, the honored guest was presented with a number of lovely gifts.

Invited guests included Miss Armstrong, the honoree, Mrs. Walter Dunlap, Mrs. I. D. Annis, Mrs. Charles Carlson, Mrs. Roy Dilkey, Mrs. Mary Dilkey, Mrs. Edwin McGarvin, Mrs. Wayne Goble, Mrs. D. C. Kent, Mrs. S. E. Westwood, Mrs. George Sparrow, and Mrs. T. J. Neal.

Innomad Club Holds
Enjoyable Meeting
At Moore Home

The Innomad club met recently at the attractive home of Mrs. Walter J. Moore, 1205 North Broadway when the afternoon passed merrily in friendly conversation and games.

Two contests were enjoyed and the winners, Mrs. C. A. Westgate and Mrs. I. D. Annis, received pretty gifts. Equally attractive prizes consoling Mrs. L. K. Best and Mrs. Jess Elliott.

Mrs. Moore's two daughters, the Misses Ruby and Opal, assisted their mother in various hostess duties and presented several piano duets.

At the tea hour, tables were decorated with colorful autumn leaves sent to Mrs. Moore from her former home in New Providence, Ia. Golden chrysanthemums added a lovely note of color and appointments were completed with small chocolate turkeys at each place.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Plan Bazaar

Among the social events planned for next month is the Christmas bazaar to be held Tuesday, December 3, at 323 West Fourth street. Many lovely "gifts" are to be on sale on the tables presided over by Mrs. Harry Spencer, Mrs. James Allen, Mrs. C. S. Dunphy, Mrs. A. B. Lester, Mrs. James Farrage, Mrs. A. B. Farrar, Mrs. Fred Catlin, Mrs. William Whitehead and others. Delicious viands will be found at the cooked food table of Mrs. C. Bondley, Mrs. W. V. Brady and Mrs. L. Wollaston. St. Elizabeth's guild will have the candy table under its care as well as many table and bridge favors for use during the holiday season.

On Wednesday, December 4, a 6:30 o'clock turkey dinner will be served in the parish hall, Seventh and Bush streets. Mrs. W. H. Haddon is in charge of the dinner and will be assisted by a coterie of women from the Senior guild and auxiliary. The hall and tables will be decorated in the reds, greens, golds and silvers of Yuletide. Mrs. E. F. Museum having charge of the decorating force. A table under the vestry will have for sale any of the things that may remain unsold from the bazaar. Places will be set for 150 at the dining tables and reservations may be made with Mrs. Terry Stephenson, 1522 North Broadway.

At the meeting of the Woman's auxiliary on Friday, December 13, Mrs. Habersham of Los Angeles, will be the guest-speaker. Preceding and following the meeting a food sale will be held by the auxiliary.

New Members of High School Club Give Program

New members of the Santa Ana high school Spanish club presented an entertaining program yesterday at a meeting held in the college cafeteria, Miss Evelyn Hunton presiding.

Opening the meeting, Miss Hunton, club president, gave a short talk concerning the plans for the Christmas fiesta which will be held December 13, and announced that tickets for the affair would go on sale in the near future.

Miss Colita Gonzales gave a group of clever readings, David Figueroa played a piano solo. Miss Mary Jane Dodd, Miss Winifred Ball and Miss Ella Hauptman presented a dramatic sketch. Other original sketches were given by Paul Velarde, Ira Jacques, Walter Caruthers, Duncan Harnois, who played a group of piano numbers, and Miss Lola Soldano, Miss Lucy Soldano, Miss Maydelle Allen, Miss Katherine Bement, Miss Rosalind Schilling and Miss Evelyn Fairley, all new members of the organization. The program was planned by Miss Helen Rodriguez.

Following the formal program, Frothingham led the club in group singing of Spanish songs, with piano accompaniment by Miss Audrey Dohmer.

Members attending the meeting were Edward Bragg, Horace Berry, Wayne Vance, Minor Warner, Charles White, David Figueroa, Harry Motley, Albert Spencer, Arthur Kettle, Hideo Higashi, Paul Jacques, Norman Paul, Albert Copeland, Ira Damerell, Walter Caruthers, Duncan Harnois, Miss Maydelle Allen, Miss Alice Lamb, Miss Colita Gonzales, Miss Mary Louise Heath, Miss Shirley Hughes, Miss Evelyn Hunton, Miss Iris Johnson, Miss Edna Kohler, Miss Lois Lamb, Miss Marguerite Lewis, Miss Betty Niedergall, Miss Doris Rindel, Miss Helen Rodriguez.

Pan Hellenic Christmas
Dance to Be Held
December 26

The annual Pan Hellenic Christmas dance given as a benefit for the Santa Ana Junior college scholarship fund will be held December 26 this year, according to plans made last night at a meeting of the society held at the A. J. Cruickshank home in Tustin. Mrs. Paul Bailey presided over the session.

The dance, which will be formal, will be held in the Orange Woman's clubhouse. Various committees to make arrangements for the affair were appointed earlier this month.

Following the business session, the evening was devoted to bridge and when scores were added it was found that Miss Norma Wingood, Mrs. Harry Huffman and Mrs. Richard Couden were the fortunate possessors of high scores and they were presented with attractive gifts.

At the supper hour, tables were centered with nosegay bouquets in slender crystal vases tied with lavender and yellow tulle. These colors were used in other appointments.

Hostesses for the occasion included Miss Constance Cruickshank, Mrs. Arnold Lund, Mrs. Howard Lutz, Mrs. Clarence McFaddin, and Mrs. Russell Wilson.

Interesting Program
Is Presented at Luncheon

Two speakers presented the program at the meeting of the Toastmasters' section of the Orange Woman's club at the clubhouse yesterday noon. Mrs. Clyde Watson spoke on "Rivers of History," telling the stories of famous rivers and the parts they have played in the history of the world. Mrs. B. D. Stanley spoke on "Famous Buildings of History." Two members of the section who were to have given talks, were unable to be present.

Mrs. C. W. Coffey is president of the section and during the business session, appointed Mrs. W. C. Pixley to act as secretary and press reporter for the section to take the place of Miss Irma Brown who has resigned.

Three new members, Mrs. A. H. Helm, Mrs. G. E. Hallman and Mrs. R. C. Burkett, were welcomed into the section.

Miss Flo Scarritt is toastmaster of the organization but at each meeting a member is chosen to act under her supervision. Mrs. Clyde Watson presided as toastmaster at this recent meeting.

Pot Luck Supper Is Merry Event of
Last Night

Baskets of winter fruit, pumpkins and cornstalks surrounding the fireplace of the "Y" hut lent an air of Thanksgiving festivity to the potluck supper given by members of the Santa Ana Junior college Young Women's Christian association, last night.

Miss Frances Harper, Y.W.C.A. president, led the group in devotional service, and group singing was led by Miss Pauline Prescott, with piano accompaniment by Miss Corinne Nelson. Following the dinner, Miss Phyllis Jamison, program chairman for the affair, introduced Miss Nancy Elder of the city Y.W.C.A., who gave an unusual talk on the "Social Problems of the Modern Girl," after which a general discussion was held.

Miss Adaruth Ellis, talented college pianist, played "Liebestrom" by Liszt. Miss Mary Harlow sang "The Rosary" and "The End of a Perfect Day," with accompaniment by Miss Phyllis Jamison. It was decided that Miss Barbara Goodrich should be appointed to make plans for an international discussion group, for the purpose of taking up topics of world-wide interest at future Y.W.C.A. meetings. The meeting closed with group singing led by Miss Prescott.

Members who attended the meeting last night included Mrs. John Tessmann, Miss Grace Hasell, Miss Mickey Jimenez, Miss Phyllis Jamison, Miss Agnes Steward, Miss Evelyn Harding, Miss Phyllis O'Connor, Miss Helen Lee, Miss Betty Wiswall, Miss Lillian McDonald, Miss Jane Anderson, Miss Audrey Teel, Miss Esther Cockerton, Miss Ruth Brubaker, Miss Velma Witt, Miss Helen Estock, Miss Ruby Wegner, Miss Margaret Westover, Miss Marian Parsons, Miss Martha Moffitt, Miss Florence Caverly, Miss Vivian Herr, Dorothy Baier, Miss Evelyn Haugness.

A new Frying Speed:

a New Stewing Economy;
a New Standard of Deliciousness

FOR FRYING, a quick, searing heat that instantly seals all the juices in... makes meats tender, full flavored.

For stewing, boiling, baking, roasting, an even, uniform, penetrating heat such as mother secured with her old-fashioned wood range, cooking everything thoroughly, tenderly, without scorching or toughening.

And in every type of food a new standard of deliciousness, due to the most scientific application ever made of controlled heat to cooking.

This, briefly, is the modern magic offered you by America's newest, finest electric range... the Hi-Speed Automatic Hotpoint Electric, with the Calrod unit.

Yet this marvelous range is surprisingly moderate in cost... surprisingly economical to operate. And to have it installed in your kitchen you need not spend a penny in down payment. Simply trade in your old range; apply the liberal appraisal price as the first installment on your splendid new Hi-Speed Hotpoint. No separate installation charges, or other extras. And with your new range you secure a low combination rate on all electricity used for every household purpose, to help you pay for your Hi-Speed Hotpoint.

Clip and mail the coupon today for details of our very unusual introductory offer. Do not delay. The time is limited.

Are Scientists Exact?

Sometimes I Think They Are BUT Sometimes I Think They Aren't

By VELVA G. DARLING

Scientists have figured out the exact amount of artificially created power that America will have used by the last day of December—exactly ninety-five billion kilowatt hours. That much for the exactness of present science. Scientists in the past have calculated to the exact minute when the earth would experience an eclipse of the sun and of the moon, when comets would appear and how close they would come to the earth. In the future scientists will calculate exactly how much electric power transmitted by radio it will take to send one human being through the air at the rate radio messages are now sent. And it will be an exact calculation which nobody can possibly disprove—and it will work! Mathematically correct, logically sound and ethically perfect—the very definition of the word scientist has come to mean an individual who is thoroughly unbiased in his opinions, as cold and just as the scales of Blind Justice, and as faultless in his conclusions as the multiplication tables.

BUT take the subject, for instance, of air—about which most of us are fairly familiar. The well known modern scientist Sir Oliver Lodge believes that air is so enormously dense and solid that platinum and gold are as nothing compared to it! The moon and earth, he says, exert an enormous pull on each other. There must be something that keeps them apart. The question is "what is it?" Air, certainly. And he has calculated that the pull of the earth on the moon is like five million-million PILLARS or STEEL, each a square foot thick! This he says is equivalent to the force which the air between the moon and the earth transmits between these two bodies. But the equally great scientist Haeckel has made entirely DIFFERENT findings regarding this same air. He has calculated that an amount of air equal in size to the earth would weigh a paltry two hundred and fifty POUNDS! And there are some modern scientists who believe that air does not exist at all. This is the new school of Relativists who hold with the doctrine of relativity—Professor Einstein's famous theory. These scientists believe that everything is relative. That you are moving and that everything else is moving—therefore since nothing is stable in the universe from which we can get a stationary point of observation, what you see all depends on where you are looking from.

Sometimes I think nobody can know ANYTHING. The wisest men once thought the world was flat—but it is ROUND! Before the last war wise men said there could never possibly BE another war—the world had grown too sensible. But there WAS—and the worst YET! Science, mathematics, logic have proved indisputably that this and that could never possibly happen or be invented and the first thing we knew, it HAD happened or been invented. They didn't know what they were talking about! But on the OTHER hand, before anybody ever flew the Atlantic, Lindbergh, a scientist, calculated exactly how many gallons of gasoline it would take, just what points of the compass he should logically follow, and how many hours he would need to be in the air before he landed at Paris. And lo! those things happened exactly as they had scientifically figured they would! ARE scientists exact—or AREN'T they? And if so, why?

The WOMAN'S DAY

By AILENE SUMNER

It's our own fault, I suppose, that celebrities high hat us every once in a while, and keep on demanding the adulation we sometimes grant to a title or a personage who rises spectacular over the horizon.

For instance, one of these tempests in a teapot recently occurred in New York when the Princess Estelle de Grogie of Paris, who was to have appeared in a particularly ravishing yellow diaphanous gown at Mrs. Vincent Astor's charity fashion show, did not appear.

She had had the pick of all the swell clothes to select from—Vionnet's and Paquin's finest had been submitted for her favor, and that particular yellow frock was selected as the high spot of a fashion parade.

But just 24 hours before the show, the Princess sent the committee a curt note in which she regretted coldly that she could not take part in the fashion show, and that she felt free to make this decision as practically nothing had been done in regard to her appearance.

The committee in charge said she walked out of the show just like a temperamental actress, be-

The MIXING BOWL

by ANN MEREDITH

Old-Fashioned Buckwheat Cakes

Whoever said that "Necessity is the mother of invention," must have had only a bowing acquaintance with the lady: it's the whole family tree and here is proof of the fact. A few weeks ago I told you about a formula for making a paste for the hands that was a remover of stains and a dressing, combined. It specified melted soap, some very fine clean sand and almond oil. Very fine clean sand usually makes itself scarce when you want it in a hurry and I was in more than a hurry after wrestling with a balky furnace, and an urgent engagement in the office! I took a can of hand-scouring powder and sifted part of it into three table-spoons of hot olive oil, mixing it to a thick paste. The stains came off like magic and my hands were smooth and comfortable rather than the stiff red victims of scrubbing brush methods.

If you haven't a can of hand-scouring powder, buy one at the drug store and prepare a small jar for kitchen use.

cause she did not get enough attention and publicity. They came right out from the shoulder. And it was learned, they had planted plenty of publicity for her, but it had suffered from retarded growth.

It burst into full flower, however, when she refused to appear. She got front page mention in the leading New York papers, even on a newsy day, when the non-appearance was noticed. She blamed it on an infected tooth, but the sponsors were not entirely convinced.

One of the fastest known birds is the spine-tailed swift, which reaches the speed of 220 miles an hour over the mountains of Asia.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Old-fashioned Buckwheat Cakes
2 cups buckwheat flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon molasses
Warm water to mix
2 teaspoons baking powder
If possible, find a shop where you can get freshly ground buckwheat flour—the flavor is so much better.

To 1-2 cups of fairly warm water add the molasses and mix with the two cups of buckwheat flour. Beat well, add the salt, and enough more water to make the batter the consistency of hot cake batter. Cover this batter and let it stand all night. In the morning pour over it and whip with an egg beater. A little more water may be necessary to thin the batter before frying.

Some cooks think that buckwheat cakes are best made with sour milk; the following recipe describes a quick way to mix them.

To two cups of sour milk add a level teaspoon of soda dissolved in a little hot water, stir until it foams, add a tablespoon of molasses or sugar, a teaspoon of salt and sufficient buckwheat flour to make a thin batter. Bake on a hot gridle.

Two small cakes have a calorie value of 100, but don't forget that the butter and syrup eaten with them have to be accounted for also. Foods of this type are highly productive of heat and energy.

Everyone has names on their Christmas list which demand something more than a Christmas card, but getting an appropriate gift for the small sum apportioned to such names is a terrific problem, and more than 50 per cent of such gifts are consigned to the "white ele-

You have a Doctor's Word for this Laxative

IN 1875, an earnest young man began to practice medicine. As a family doctor, he treated many cases of constipation. He soon saw the harm in common purges and began to seek something better. Out of his experience was born a famous prescription now in wide use.

This prescription was written thousands of times. It proved an ideal laxative for old and young. Children like its pleasant taste. Older people like it because it doesn't gripe or cause discomfort. It is a mixture of fresh herbs and other pure ingredients; thoroughly effective for the most robust of men. Stimulates the normal muscular action of the bowels. So its use will not become a habit. As people saw how marvelously the most sluggish bowels are started and bad breath, headaches, biliousness, feverishness or no energy, poor appetite, etc. are relieved by Dr. Caldwell's prescription, it became necessary to put it up ready for use.

Today, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as it is called, is the world's most popular laxative. All drug stores have the generous bottles. The product never varies from Dr. Caldwell's original formula. So you can take it with confidence or give it to the youngest child.

'THE TRESPASSER' BROADWAY FEATURE

For the first time, Santa Ana theater fans are given an opportunity to hear Gloria Swanson's voice in a picture. Her latest contribution to the screen, "The Trespasser," which is her first all-talking vehicle, now is playing in the Fox-Broadway theater. The picture opened there yesterday and closes tomorrow night.

The addition of her voice to the story lends it unusual charm and critics throughout the country have been high in their praise of the star's latest work.

The story concerns a modern Chicago stenographer, who, after being ardently wooed by the son of a millionaire, marries him to learn that her father-in-law believes that she married the youth for other reasons than love. Her pride is hurt and she gives up her husband.

Aside from the feature, an all-talking comedy, "The Talkies," and a Fox Movietone newsreel are shown.

WHY CAREFUL MOTHERS PREFER IT

Frightening croupy coughs, stuffy wheezy colds, and troublesome night coughs are quickly and safely eased and helped by Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Mothers endorse it, is sedative without opiates and mildly laxative. Contains no chloroform, nor any ingredient that a careful mother would hesitate to give her child.

Mrs. N. Weigel, Calvary, Wis., says: "My mother says there is no better cough medicine for children than Foley's Honey and Tar, and we too find it so." Ask for it. For sale by Parsons Drug Co., Hinkley's Pharmacy, Main St., corner Washington avenue.—Adv.

GRAHAM PLUM PUDDING

Three tablespoons butter, 1-2 cup molasses, 1-2 cup milk, 1 egg, 1 cup graham flour, 1-2 cup white flour, 1-2 teaspoon soda, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon cloves, 1-2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1-2 pound stoned dates, 2 tablespoons minced citron. Melt butter, add molasses, milk and eggs well beaten. Mix well and add graham flour. Mix and sift white flour, soda, salt and spices. Combine with chopped dates and citron. Mix thoroughly and add to batter. Beat hard for one minute and turn into a buttered mold. Cover and steam two and one-half hours. Serve with hard sauce for adults and liquid sauce with a garnish of whipped cream for children.

Thanksgiving pudding is a traditional New England dessert not too rich for older children.

THANKSGIVING PUDDING

Four cups milk, 1-2 cups broken crackers, 4 tablespoons molasses, 1 cup sugar, 4 eggs, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons melted butter, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1-2 cups "soaked" raisins. Scald milk and pour over crackers. Let stand until cool. Parboil raisins in boiling water to cover until plump. Beat eggs slightly and add to crackers with sugar, molasses, salt, butter and spices. Mix well and add plumped raisins. Pour into a well-buttered baking dish and bake very slowly for two and one-half hours. Stir twice during the first half hour to prevent raisins from settling to the bottom of the dish. Serve with hard sauce or sterling sauce.

CELERY AND CARROTS IN PARSLEY SAUCE

Two large heads of celery, 4 medium sized carrots, 2 tablespoons butter, 1-2 tablespoons flour, 1-2 cups milk, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper. Save tender hearts of celery for use in another meal. Wash and dice remaining stalks. Scrape and dice carrots. Combine and cook in as little water as possible until tender, about 25 minutes. Let water cook away, watching closely to prevent burning. Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add milk, stirring constantly. All salt, pepper and minced parsley. Bring to the boiling point and add vegetables. Re-heat, if necessary, and serve.

PEACH CUP PUDDINGS

One cup flour, 1 tablespoon butter, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1-4 teaspoon salt, milk, canned peaches. Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder. Work in butter and cut in milk to make a soft "drop" dough. Put a little dough in each of four buttered custard cups. Add one or two halves of peaches and cover with dough. Put cups in a steamer over boiling water and steam 45 minutes.

The tarpon, of Florida, can cover 60 miles in an hour.

THE TINYMITES

STORY & IAL COCHRAN — PICTURES & KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

The Tinymites sat on their sled and one wee coal lump promptly said, "This coal car track goes far below. It's long and very steep. But don't get scared. You'll be all right and no good ever comes from fright. A big surprise is at the end. It's big and dark and deep."

"Now all of you hang on real tight. I'm going to push with all my might and start your sled to going. Then you're on your merry way. We're glad that you all stopped in here and brought the coal lumps heaps of cheer. We much enjoyed your visit. Please come back again some day."

"You bet we will," one Tiny said. "And, gee, the next time we won't dread to slide into your wondrous cave. We know it's safe and sound. Before we met you we all thought that in some trap we would be caught. It seemed so funny sailing right inside the solid ground."

The other Tiny then all cried, "Let's go! We're ready for our ride. We'll hang on tight as you suggest and simply trust to luck. But, if some trick you pull on us, we'll come right back and start a fuss." One coal lump answered, "Ha, ha, ha! Your big sled won't get stuck."

And then the coal lumps pushed the sled and on their way the Tinymites sped. They sailed down a long, long hill. The sled stayed on the track. "Oh, my," cried Clowny. "See us go! I think I'd rather travel slow. Say, if I had my choice, I'd turn around and go right back."

"Oh, look ahead!" another cried. "Into a ship we're going to slide. I'm sure it is a coal boat and we'll travel out to sea." Then Scouty shouted, "Gee, that's great. I'm thrilled and I can hardly wait. When we are on the ocean, oh how happy I will be."

(The ship captain gets mad at the Tinyites in the next story.)

Missing Letter Links

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example: to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-TIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

LIQUOR SEIZED, MAN ARRESTED IN BEACH RAID

Two hundred and thirty-two pints of whiskey and a gallon of wine were confiscated and Dave Hanna, 55, of 611 Joliet street, Huntington Beach, was arrested when Chief of Police William Steward, of Huntington Beach police department, and A. L. Steward, of the sheriff's office, raided Hanna's home yesterday afternoon.

The whiskey was said to have been found in an automobile in Hanna's garage. The other liquor was reported found in the house.

According to Steward, Hanna paid a fine of $250 on a possession of liquor charge in the police court in Huntington Beach yesterday afternoon.

Hanna made bail of $1000 soon after his arrest and is scheduled to appear in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court here at 9 a. m., Friday for a hearing.

30 BREA CHURCH MEMBERS WITHDRAW AFTER PASTOR'S RESIGNATION IS ACCEPTED

The Rev. John J. Bell, who sold copies of an original song to provide funds for the erection of the First Baptist church in Brea, tendered his resignation last night. After the congregation had passed a resolution accepting the resignation "with sincere regrets," approximately 30 members announced their withdrawal from the church.

Friction among church members was reported to be the cause of the pastor's action. The Rev. Mr. Bell became pastor four years ago, when the members were meeting in a vacant store room.

Firm in his belief that the members should have their own house of worship, the pastor started a campaign to raise funds, securing several hundred dollars from the sale of his song.

The resolution lauded the Rev. Mr. Bell as "a man of sterling character, a sincere and consecrated man of God, always striving to serve his Master to the best of his ability."

Not only do the English Singers of London, scheduled for a concert in the Santa Ana high school auditorium on Friday night, December 6, under the auspices of the Santa Ana Ebells society, offer a new form of musical entertainment, but they bring also a number of new songs.

Rediscovered wonders of the flowering Elizabethan era that abounded in motets, madrigals, folk songs, ballads and canzonets—revelations of beauty long forgotten but lately made available through researches of Dr. Edmund Fellowes, chaplain of Windsor college, the world's greatest authority on madrigals—will be featured on the program here.

Citizens of this city who hold season tickets may obtain reservations and procure choice seats for the noted singers, who will appear on the first program of a series of three concerts to be sponsored by the Ebells society. On Wednesday, those who hold tickets for the single concert will have the opportunity of getting their seats reserved in the Santa Ana Book store.

The English Singers, six in number, are not merely vocalists in quest of gain and notoriety through their newly resurrected art, but they primarily are lovers of music who sing because they enjoy that kind of work more than anything else and enthrall over the unparalleled beauties of the compositions they sing. The personnel of the singers includes Flora Mann, Nellie Carson, Lillian Berger, Cuthbert Kelly, Norman Stone and Norman Notley.

Tickets for the concert now are on sale.

Miss Margaret Livingston was the speaker at the meeting of the Orange County Historical society, last night, in the Ebells clubhouse. Her subject was "Bouchard at San Juan Capistrano."

Bouchard is generally recognized as an old pirate when in reality he was a representative of the Insurrectionists who made trouble for the Spanish in Mexico and South America in 1818, she said. He was an Argentine sea captain and, after staging revolts and destructive fires in Monterey and Santa Barbara, sailed south to Capistrano, where he stopped for provisions. His visit there was limited to only a few hours as the people heard of his coming and hid in the surrounding hills.

Two book reviews also were given last night. One, "Spanish Ancestry," was presented by Mrs. J. E. Pleasant, whose husband has lived on their ranch home in the Santiago canyon since 1886. Another review was given by William McPherson on "Hayes' Diary," Benjamin Hayes was a nearly California judge, who traveled through this county and held court on the Rancho Santa Ana, in Olive, and the Serrano ranch, in El Toro.

An unusual record was thought to have been set today in department three of the superior court, presided over by Judge G. K. Scovel, when the jury, which is trying the combined cases of William J. and Jennie McCullough and Charles A. Cashdollar vs. John F. Michael, was accepted by the attorneys representing the parties to the action without a single peremptory challenge.

The jurors, including seven men and five women, were accepted for service just as drawn from the box by Deputy County Clerk Elmer Schanley.

The case, which court attaches prophesied would continue until some time tomorrow, is the outcome of an automobile collision at the intersection of Magnolia avenue and Clair street, last May. The complaints ask a total of $45,550 from Michael for injuries alleged to have been received by the plaintiffs.

CHICAGO B.D. OF TRADE

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—(UP)—Commission houses were good buyers on the early break in wheat during the morning. The rally due to the Argentine news was cut short by Liverpool's uneven close, prices being 1/4 higher to 1/2 lower. The liquidation of December wheat seems to be dominating the market. Corn and oats recovered slightly with wheat and about mid session were only fractionally lower. Provisions were strong on short covering.

The opening was fractionally lower on the wheat cables and was followed by a fast break. Selling was led by houses with north west connections, believed to be largely liquidation of December contracts. With the report from a Chicago crop expert in Argentina that estimates would have to be lowered 20 percent as stated a week ago, there was a sharp rally and the market recovered most of the losses. Cash prices were unchanged. Receipts were 5 cars.

Corn lost around 10 c. on moderate receipts and the weather, during the morning. Action was small in the oil, the local traders being inclined toward the bear side and awaiting developments. Cash unchanged. Receipts 130 cars. Oats lost a minor fraction after the opening but the trading was quiet during the early part of the session. Cash unchanged. Receipts 10 cars.

MR. SHAW ON GOVERNMENT

George Bernard Shaw in his annual Fabian lecture advised departmentalized parliaments. "You must have not one but several parliaments. You want a commonwealth parliament, then a British Federal Parliament. Then there must be national parliaments, including one for Scotland. And remember there must be two or three of each—political, industrial and more." All this because, he says, as the situation stands it is becoming impossible to get anything done.

Mr. Shaw was speaking as a Britisher, but the problem presented by the multitude of interests which today confront legislators is with us as well and it has been conjured with before. Their scope and importance challenge even the highly intelligent. The complexity of government is constantly increasing. It is reaching the point where no human being should be expected to decide wisely on all the problems which come before the United States Senate.

It is even a question whether it is not too much to expect one to thoroughly study the facts submitted by authorities on the various problems—the more so because a complete understanding of facts often makes a decision one way or another even more difficult. We have the situation, now and then, of the man who knows the most feeling the least inclined to decide upon an issue.

The legislators are baffled with the profundity of the matters before them. They seek aid of those they consider authorities and the public mistrusts them, and quite justifiably, when they counsel too much with the advocate of one or the other side of a question.

But what is to be done? Government is terribly complex. Mr. Shaw's solution would doubtless increase the complexity since the various issues cannot be isolated into one or another department of government but are interrelated. Probably the first thing we can do is to be more tolerant of the impasse such as the present tariff situation and less tolerant of penalty.

Mr. Shaw also suggested that in considering British foreign relations there should be a council of ambassadors who should conduct all their business in each others' presence with a foreign secretary. Is the British foreign, he said, "to go on being the headquarters of backstairs intrigue, as it is now?"

There's nothing very funny about it, but have you noticed how the stock market seems to get all the breaks?

A FAVORABLE YEAR FOR TURKEYS

From all sections of the country come the reports that turkeys are more plentiful, and therefore cheaper, than they have been for many years. This will be good news for the people of the country, for the turkey is still the most popular Thanksgiving bird. A goose or a duck will go for Christmas, but Thanksgiving is not quite complete without the turkey. If we must do without we reluctantly drop down to the little brother or sister of the turkey, the chicken. But it takes the turkey to make the Thanksgiving season a real agency for thanksgiving.

The reason for this abundance of turkeys, it is said, is due to the favorable weather there has been for the growth of this bird. The turkey is rather a delicate creature. It needs just the right kind of weather to grow. It is not uncommon that out of a hatching of eight or ten young turkeys two-thirds of them die. We recall receiving the promise of a turkey out of a brood of nine little turkeys if two of them survive the rigors of the weather or the diseases so common among them. We did not get the turkey. All but one died long before they grew to Thanksgiving size.

It is with great hope, therefore, that unless the stock market was too hard on many, or some other misfortune has overtaken others, that every one may have his turkey this year because they are so plentiful and more reasonable in price. This will be an added blessing for thankfulness.

STAYING HOME TO STUDY

There was a time not long since when a youth who wanted to become efficient in his profession went abroad to study. A degree from a German or a French University seemed necessary to get standing in this country. Theologians went to Germany, physicians went to Vienna, artists and musicians went to Paris, and so on.

That day has passed. A degree from Harvard, from Chicago, from Columbia and many of our great state universities is looked upon as being worth a great deal more than a degree from Bonn or Heidelberg in Germany or the Sorbonne in Paris. The Rhodes scholarships, which at first were considered such a prize for American college men to obtain, are being prized less and less in this country. The fact is that our American universities have better facilities to train men for life in America than foreign universities. They understand the needs of America better. The aim of a school is to teach a man to be effective in the country in which he is going to do his work. What is needed in European society may be altogether foreign to American society. So, we hear less of boys finishing their education abroad, and more of them flocking to the great universities of this country for their professional work. There is no need that any but the extreme specialist should now go abroad.

A NEW MIRACLE SHRINE

The city of Malden, Mass., has become the scene of a new pilgrimage. Some sixty years ago, Father Power of the local Roman Catholic Church was buried in the little cemetery of that city. The memory of the good priest had lingered, and a short time ago the report was sent abroad that a lame girl was healed at the grave. It was reported in the local paper. The metropolitan papers began to report it. Reports of other healings—the lame, the blind, the deaf, the diseased—began to be reported. On a recent Sunday the little cemetery was crowded with unfortunates and their friends seeking health. Thousands came in automobiles from all over New England and beyond. The day was wet. The sick and the suffering kneeled in the mud anxiously praying for the intercession of the spirit of the priest.

It is another one of those miracle agencies destined to bring disappointment and disillusionment to a great many. There are certain functional ailments that may be cured by a supreme effort of the will. There are diseases which are purely psychological. Our science of psychiatry has proven that without a question. It will undoubtedly be found that many of the cures reported from this grave in Malden could have been effected by a skillful psychiatrist. But the human heart is hungry for the mysterious. No one will ever be able to convince those who have lost their ailments at that grave that miracles are not real. The tragedy of it all will be that those who have not been favored by healing will wonder what kind of a God it is who heals one and who will not heal all.

The sense of the mysterious is still all pervasive in human minds. The superstitions that linger, even among intelligent people, is sufficient evidence that the idea of law governing in all the affairs of the universe needs still to be apprehended by the great masses of the people. In the meantime the credulity of the people is again verified. Perhaps, however, the psychiatrist may be able to study at first hand some of the phenomena which marks this new manifestation of the mysterious and the occult.

Few Surprises Are Left Us
Imperial Valley Press

It is hard to realize the extent to which the remote places of the earth are coming under the influence of modern civilization—until you read that the lost Canadian almanac, missing for weeks on a lonely island within the Arctic Circle, were found because an Eskimo, listening in on his radio, heard that they were missing somewhere in his vicinity, and went out to hunt for them.

Of all the places on the earth where you would expect to find life running its placid course much as it used to in prehistoric times, an Eskimo's igloo in the far north would be the first. Yet, if these early reports are correct, the radio set—most characteristic of all features of our modern life—has gone to the northland, and the slant-eyed denizen of the land of eternal snows is rapidly imbibing at least the surface developments of the unknown lands to the south of him.

Whether we like it or not, that is the way things are going. The remote places are not so remote, now. Go to darkest Africa and you are apt to stumble over a flivver. Fly to the South Sea Islands and you will find the movies there ahead of you. Go to the Arctic and you find radio sets. There is no escaping from our factory civilization. Perhaps this helps to explain our increasing attitude of confidence and assurance. There are not many mysteries left for us. The man who lived a hundred years ago knew that most of the earth's surface was still little-known, existing after the manner of its forgotten ancestors; and the knowledge impressed upon him the fact that the earth was full of surprises. But the surprises, now, are gone.

What use to seek knowledge far afield, when you will find the same things there you are used to at home?

Triumphs of Justice
New York Times

Crime of all sorts seems to be running against sufficient resistance these days to give fresh emphasis to the police circulation admonition: "You can't win." In Texas a bank robber and cruel murderer whose clever efforts to defer and defeat justice had aroused the populace, was lynched by an orderly mob. In East Orange another bank robber, frustrated by the quick wit of a young teller, was quickly pursued by the police and gallantly captured. Students at an Illinois university who were selling liquor to students found fortune turn suddenly against them, were arrested and expelled. Complete recovery was made of a rich bank loot in the West.

The police, Federal and local, played a worthy part. The public does not pay sufficient attention to the happy ending in tales of attempted crime. Because some miscreants get away, or because others are released through court action, a cynical attitude has arisen which makes audiences laugh when the vaudeville comedian says of the police: "They couldn't even catch a cold."

During political campaigns the "outs" stimulate this feeling by criticism. But sometimes there is a striking run of good news, as recently. And when the police have such quick-witted cooperation as that of the young banker in East Orange, who put up his hands but sank below the firing-line, property is made safer.

Stock Bottoms That Were Reached In Past
San Bernardino Sun

The Wall Street Journal on Nov. 13 called attention to some interesting parallels in stock deflation.

In the downward movement from June 17, 1902, to Nov. 9, 1903, stocks lost 45 per cent of their value.

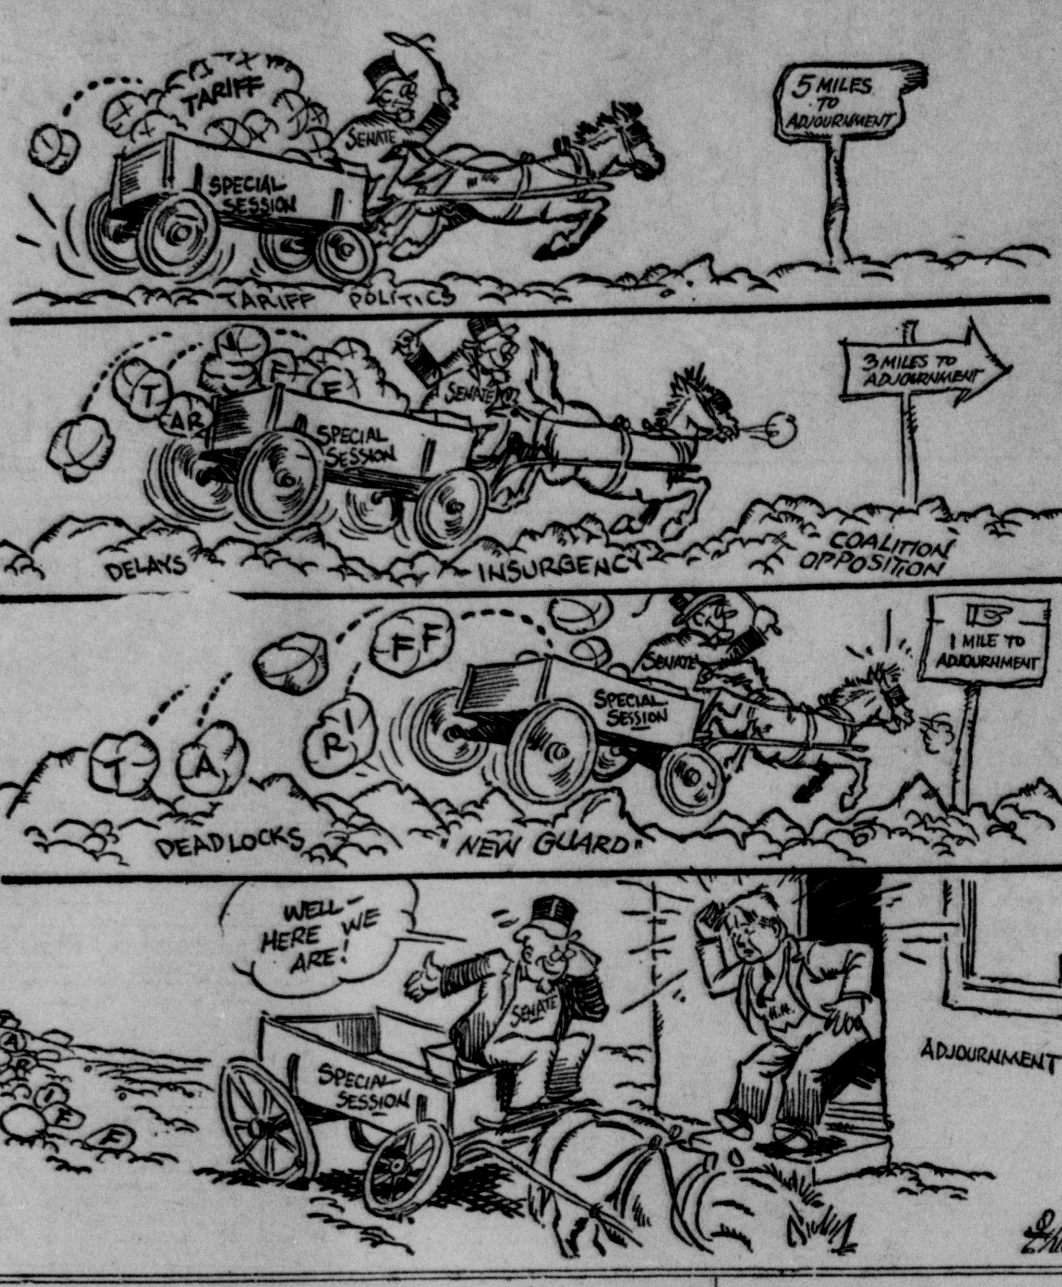

In the downward movement from Jan. 19, 1906 to Nov. 15, 1907, they lost exactly the same percentage.

History doesn't always repeat itself. Nevertheless the figures are suggestive, especially in industrial stocks on Nov. 13 registered a drop of 45 per cent from the record high of Sept. 30 last.

Is there anything inevitable about these figures? Is the bottom figure the same for the present bear movement? Many would give their eyeteeth to know.

Everybody will probably know before long. The market seems to move faster nowadays, covering in months ground that formerly took years.

Delivering the Goods—And How!

More Truth Than Poetry
By James J. Montague

MAKE YOUR OWN MORAL

The spider bites the vandal hand
Which tapers with the silken strand
Whose woven maze
For days and days
Has busily employed her,
And so, although we may wax wrath,
We do not steal her webs for cloth.
But stand in awe
Of her sharp jaw
We hate her, but avoid her.

The silk worm does not even turn,
But sleeps in utter unconcern
While we unwind
The fine spun rind
Inside of which she slumbers.
We shout the silk-worm's praise aloud
Because she is not fierce and proud;
But mild and tame.
Yet just the same
We decimate her numbers.

There ought to be a moral here
The soul to warn or guide or cheer,
Some note which might
Of wrong or right.
Persuasively remind one.
But though I've read these ringing rhymes
Some twenty-five or thirty times
Or more or less,
I must confess
I do not seem to find one.

Crashing The Gates

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

Small boys crashing the gates at a recent football game were promptly seized and locked up in a steel cage, ungilded but stout, under the Harvard stadium. They were permitted to peer out through the bars—but not at the game.

Across the Charles River, Bostonians sat up and took shocked notice. The Welfare Society spontaneously adding a new department, the Juvenile Gate Crashers' Protective Union, rushed over to Cambridge to see what all the shouting was about, and did a little shouting of its own.

Said their officers: "Children are entitled to more consideration than grown-ups."

An Italian woman was tried for the shooting of her husband and found guilty. The Boston jury who heard that "she had borne the man's abuse for years, but couldn't stand seeing her children tortured," brought in a light verdict.

Bostonians, devoted as they are to Harvard and to law, are also, it seems, in their quaint way devoted to children. So are San Franciscans and New Yorkers.

Men without jobs can be dismissed from our minds. "The usual amount of unemployment," we say, and feel vaguely comforted.

But children without food or shoes can't be dismissed from our hearts. To our credit we haven't sunk to easy announcements about the "usual amount of child suffering."

Millions of men who want to work—and the product of whose work we want to buy—tramp doggedly up and down our "Stupid Streets," looking for jobs that aren't there. We're sorry, but what can we do?

Much, perhaps, if we stop to think of this: back of these millions of men are more millions of children—children shut up in cages of deprivation and suffering, peering out wistfully at a world that should be full of joy. Shut in cages because their fathers, distracted with anxiety and defeat, aren't able to crash the gates of a job.

We're sorry, but what can we—
No, that formula may do for men, "but children are entitled to more consideration than grown-ups."
Being sorry for them isn't enough.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

THE QUANTITY-MINDED MAN

Ralph Borsodi has written a singularly stimulating book called "The Ugly Civilization." It is a sort of log-book of his personal flight from a way out of all that he dislikes in our existing, machine civilization, or, as he thinks it more accurate to say, our factory civilization.

Mr. Borsodi has worked out a personal flight from the prevailing system of living. There is much about his flight that appeals very strongly to me, but, as I hope to say in greater detail a little later, I think his idea is futile except for a scattered few. Today I want only to call attention to some singularly wise things he says about the quantity-minded man who enjoys exceptional prestige and power in the modern world.

History, says Mr. Borsodi, is a record of mankind's leadership by quantity-minded men.

"Now and then," he says, "mankind has turned for a time to a more sensitive type to be led, or to be entertained, or to be instructed."

"In religion, it has sometimes followed a Zoroaster, a Buddha, a Christ."

"In ethics, it has sometimes followed a Confucius, a Socrates, a Spinoza."

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

THE WRONG END

Dicky rushed home at the noon recess. Not that he ever did the ten blocks slowly, he was a very fast moving lad, but this day he travelled much faster. He clattered into the house leaving the door wide open behind him. He landed beside his mother with a slam-bang.

"Mother, mother, what do you do think? I'm—"

"Dick, for pity's sake. Close the door. Mercy me. Are you deaf or do you think everybody else is? How many times have I told you to come in quietly?"

"Yes, but Mom, I've been—"

"Is that how you looked in school? Your hair like a bee's nest? Your hands like a coal heaver's? Tie under your ear? Smudges all over your face? Go and tidy yourself and—"

"But mother, I'm the—"

"Lower your voice. Nobody shouts like that but some ignorant underbred creature who never had—"

"Gee mother, I never thought that I'd be the—"

"First make yourself tidy. Then sit down to lunch. It's getting cold. Hurry now. You can tell me all about it afterward."

Dicky suddenly collapsed like a punctured balloon. All the light died out of his face. All the energy left his body and it sagged as he turned wearily toward the bathroom. He took quite a long time so his mother had to call him. When he finally sat down to the meal his mother had been anxiously

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

FIRST STREET RAILWAY
Ninety-seven years ago today, on Nov. 26, 1832, the first street railway in America opened in New York City.

The road was known as the New York and Harlem Railroad, on which a horse car, much like an old English stage coach in construction, ran from Prince street on the Bowery to Yorkville and Harlem.

The first railway followed for some distance the route now occupied by the Fourth Avenue Railway, which still operates under the original charter granted in 1831.

It was operated as a horse car line until 1837, when it was temporarily changed to a steam car line. In 1845 the operation of horse cars was resumed and it remained the only horse car line in New York until 1852.

In 1856, street railways were first built in Boston, Mass., and

THE UNBELIEVER

At dinner a little girl became highly elated at discovering the wishbone of the chicken on her plate. At this her little brother remarked, skeptically:

"They're stupid things. I've had three wishbones and daddy hasn't got a motorcar yet."—Moustique, Carlerol.
